DEMOCRATS HOLD MAJORITY IN BOTH WINGS OF CONGRESS

Tuesday's Election Reduced Majority in Lower House to Eighteen, While Senate Majority is Increased to Fourteen, According to Returns Available Late Last Night.

PROGRESSIVES LOST HEAVILY EVERYWHERE

Two Districts in Colorado, One in New Jersey, Two in Kansas and One in North Carolina Are Yet Undecided—Sherman Elected Senator From Illinois—Four Out of Six States Vote Themselves "Dry."

New York, Nov. 4.—Latest returns from yesterday's election indicate that the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives for the 64th Congress will be reduced to 18. The probable Democratic majority in the Senate will be 14.

Democrats have elected 226 members, Republican 192; Progressives 10; and Socialists 1. Of the six missing districts, it was estimated tonight that the Republicans and Democrats might elect three each.

Heaviest Republican gains were 13 in Illinois; 12 in New York; 10 in Pennsylvania, and nine in Ohio. Progressive representation in the House was cut from 19 to nine or ten.

Contests which were so close that they could not be definitely determined at a late hour tonight were in two districts in Colorado, one in New Jersey, two in Kansas and one in North Carolina.

In the sixth California district J. A. Elston, Progressive, led Gen. H. Dechick, Republican, by a slight margin. Democratic leaders claimed the election of H. H. Seldomridge and Edward Keating in the second and third Colorado districts. Representative William E. Tuttle, Jr., of the fifth New Jersey district, was in danger of losing his seat to John H. Capstick, Republican, but his supporters claimed his election.

Republicans claimed victory for W. A. Calderhead and John R. Dykes in the fifth and sixth Kansas districts and for J. J. Britt, in the tenth North Carolina district.

The House:

Alabama—Democrats 10; Republicans 0; unchanged.

Arizona—Democrats 1; Republicans 0; unchanged.

Arkansas—Democrats 7; Republicans 0; unchanged.

California—Democrats 2; Republicans 3; Progressives 6; unchanged.

Colorado—Democrats 2; probably Democrats 2; unchanged.

Connecticut—Democrats 0; Republicans 5; Republican gain 5.

Delaware—Democrats 4; Republicans 1; Republican gain 1.

Florida—Democrats 5; Republicans 0; unchanged.

Idaho—Democrats 0; Republicans 2; unchanged.

Illinois—Democrats 9; Republicans 17; Progressives 1; Republican gain of 13 over Democrats in third, 15th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 21st, 22nd, 24th, 25th and two at large; over Progressives in 10th and 12th.

Indiana—Democrats 11; Republicans 2; Republican gain of 2 in 7th and 14th districts.

Iowa—Democrats 1; Republicans 10; Republican net gain of 2; gains in second, third and sixth districts; loss in 11th.

Kansas—Democrats 4; Republicans 2; probably Republicans 2. Democratic gain of one in eighth district.

NINE OF AMENDMENTS APPEAR TO BE SAFE

According to Unofficial Returns From 65 of 100 Counties, Only Tax Amendment is in Doubt, and Chairman Bailey Claims All Have Been Adopted—Democratic Majority in State at Least 30,000.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—Estimated returns from 65 of the 100 counties in North Carolina indicate that nine of the ten constitutional amendments have carried, with the Tax amendment, against which the greatest opposition had been directed, in doubt.

Two-thirds of the counties heard from gave the amendments, excepting that on taxation, majorities, but the figures were mainly estimates.

J. W. Bailey, chairman of the campaign committee which sought to secure the adoption of the amendments, gave out a statement tonight in which he claimed that all the amendments were carried.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—Democratic State Chairman Thomas D. Warren said tonight that belated returns straggling in today have in no way changed his conception of the outcome of the election as expressed last night, and he estimated the Democratic majority at 30,000, with a very light vote throughout the State. He was gratified today at news of a number of erstwhile Republican counties coming into the Democratic column, these including Washington, Ashe, McDowell and Burke.

He has not attempted to get a line on the fate of the Constitutional amendments, but is of the opinion that the Tax amendment is certainly defeated and that it will take an official canvass of the returns to show the result of the others, there being a strong likelihood, he thinks, that all of them are defeated.

Democratic headquarters closed this afternoon, Secretary J. R. Collie leaving for his home and Chairman Warren to leave for Newbern tomorrow. He expects to be back in Raleigh within a few days to finish and settle up the affairs of the campaign.

The real figures as to the election in Wake county are still an unknown quantity, there not being more than 15 precincts that have made returns at all. The canvassing board meets tomorrow and not until then will the returns be opened up for an estimate of results. The best opinion gives the Democrats 3,500 majority on the State ticket at least. It may run more than that. Whether carried or defeated, the majority as to the amendments is small, in all probability. Raleigh probably gave some majority for all except possibly the Tax amendment and the vote in the country precincts was against the amendments, it is believed, and so the returns from the few precincts in hand indicate.

It is more than ever evident that it will take the official canvass of the returns the State over to finally determine the fate of the amendments, except the Tax amendment, which is generally conceded to be defeated.

Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman, today returned from the Tenth district where he went a week ago to assist in the campaign. Congressman Gudger's patronage troubles, the two bitter primary contests, the condition of the lumber business in the far western counties, the cotton situation in Rutherford and base misrepresentation of the Wilson administration generally, are the main causes which have contributed largely to his defeat, says Mr. Shipman.

Business depression was worked over time and pitiful stories were poured into the ears of the unemployed around manufacturing centers and in logging camps. He says hundreds of Democrats evidently failed to vote at all and have only themselves to blame for the loss of the district.

SURPRISE IN COLUMBUS.

Williamson Seems to Have Been Defeated by Barest Majority.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 4.—With returns in from all but one small precinct in the county, indications tonight are that Ashley M. Benton, Independent candidate, was elected over J. R. Williamson, Democratic nominee, for the Legislature from Columbus by a majority of from 10 to 20 votes, with the probability that it will be increased or

DETAILS OF GREAT NAVAL ENGAGEMENT

Loss of Life in Sunday's Battle Very Heavy.

BRITISH LOSS UNTOLD

Japanese Squadron Said to Be Near Scene of Engagement in Pacific Between British and German Forces.

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 4.—No word comes today from the British ships that engaged the German squadron off Coronel Sunday, and the British side of the story is yet to be told.

According to German accounts the armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and light cruisers Nurnburg, Leipzig and Bremen escaped unscathed, while the British cruiser Monmouth was sunk, the cruiser Good Hope put out of action and the cruiser Glasgow with the transport Otranto sent scurrying for hselter in the neutral port of Talcaxuano, where they are bottled up by the Leipzig and Bremen.

It is oetdshrdluetaoSHRDLUPUN

It is certain the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Nurnburg arrived safely at Valparaiso, though somewhat the worse for their encounter with the Britishers.

One report is that the Glasgow, badly damaged, arrived in Coronal Bay, while the Otranto escaped to Puerto Montt.

Desypite thetaoishrdluetaoiSHRDLU only three fighting ships against five, the decisive British defeat appears to have produced a profound impression. The battle took place in a heavy sea. The Germans opened fire at ten kilometers. For a time the British shots fell short, but later their guns scored a few hits. The casualties among the German crews were said to consist of some half dozen wounded. The German fire is described as having been excellent, though at the long range it required 400 hits to put the Britishers out of the fight.

A steam collier which arrived at Valparaiso reports having seen eight Japanese warships at Easter Island, which is 2,300 miles west of the Chilean coast and belongs to the republic of Chile.

STILL IN PORT.

German Warships Coaling in Preparation for Outside Work.

Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 4.—The German cruisers Sacharnhorst, Gneisenau and Nurnburg, which, with th eLeipzig and Bremen, defeated the British cruisers Monmouth, Good hope and Glasgow and the transport Otranto Sunday afternoon off the Chilean Island of Et. Maria, were still in the harbor today, coaling and provisioning in preparation for steaming away later. It is supposed that they will relieve the Leipzig and Bremen, which have the Glasgow and Otranto bottled up in Talcahuano.

Unless a superior British or Japanese fleet should make its appearance and go to the relief of the Glasgow and Otranto, it is regarded as likely that those vessels will be dismantled and interned.

Admiral von Spee, in his official report of the battle says the action lasted only an hour, being discontinued at nightfall when the British were forced to give awy.

The Good Hope, he said, "was then so badly damaged she was unable to resist and could only make her escape protected by the darkness."

"The Monmouth, under identical conditions, tried to escape, but was followed by a small cruiser and was sunk with a few shots. Owing to the hurricane prevailing on boats could be lowered and, consequently, there was a terrible loss of life."

REPORT TO WASHINGTON.

German Minister and American Minister Report on Naval Battle.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Official news of the German naval victory off the coast of Chile over a British fleet was contained in a cable to the German embassy here today from Minister Erskert, German minister at Valparaiso.

The message, dated early yesterday, says:

"The German cruisers Scharnhoft, Gneisenau and Nurburg entered Valparaiso in perfect condition. They had, together with a fourth cruiser, an engagement off Coronel on Sunday last against four English cruisers. The Monmouth was sunk by shells. The Good Hope was badly damaged and probably also sunk. On our side there were three wounded. No damage to our ships. The Ontranto and Bristol escaped."

American Minister Fletcher, at Santiago, Chile, today also reported the German naval victory off Coronel, Chile, and the arrival of three German warships at Valparaiso. The damaged Good Hope is reported as having escaped with the Glasgow and Otranto.

EXPORT BALANCE INCREASES IN FAVOR OF AMERICA.

October Report Shows Increase of $44,000,000 Over September.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Commerce Department officials estimated tonight that October's export balance in favor of American trade would amount to $60,000,000. That would be an increase of $44,000,000 over September's balance. The estimate was based on reports from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Galveston, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle, Detroit and Buffalo, which handle about 90 per cent of the country's total exports. From those points in October was shipped exports totalling $162,620,000, while the imports about 53 per cent of the American total, were $119,170,000.

ARKANSAS MINERS AWAIT THE TOOPS

All is Quiet in the Hartford Valley Mine Regions.

PROCLAMATION POSTED

Order of President Wilson That People of District Obey Rulings of the Supreme Court Posted by Officers.

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 4.—Conditions were quiet today in the Hartford Valley coal mining regions, where the inhabitants are calmly awaiting the arrival of Federal troops, sent on orders of President Wilson to enable the United States court to carry out its orders in administering the receivership of the Bache-Denman mines, the scene of the recent troubles.

Major N. F. McClure, who will command tahe fur troops of cavalry en route from Fort Sheridan, Ill., reached Fort Smith late today. He will decide tomorrow whether to hold the soldiers in Fort Smith or send them at once into camp in the Prairie Creek Neighborhood.

"I am unable to say in advance whether martial law will be declared at once," said Mayor McClure. "It will depend largely on conditions as we find them after the troops arrive. The soldiers are due here tomorrow night."

The federal grand jury summoned to investigate conditions in the coal fields, where miners are alleged to have presented court officers from performing their duty, was impanelled today and immediately adjourned until Friday, when Judge Frank Youmans will deliver his charge.

Special Attorneys on Scene.

J. V. Bourland, United States district attorney for the western district of Arkansas, and his assistants have been relieved of duies in connection with the investigation. R. V. Hull, special assistant to the United States Attorney General and Billups Harris, special agent of the department of justice, will be in charge of the grand jury work. Both have been in the district several weeks gathering evidence.

The president's proclamation, ordering military forces to assist the judicial branch of the government in enforcing its orders, was made public here today. Copies were posted in the Prairie Creek neighborhood. The order gives the inhabitants of the district until noon Friday to comply with its provisions.

The president's proclamation is as follows:

"Whereas, by reason of unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages of persons, it has become impracticable in the judgment of the president to enforce by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings the laws of the United States within the State of Arkansas an despecially within the western federal district and in the neighborhood of the towns of Hartford, Midland and Smith, in said district.

"And, whereas, for the purpose of enforcing the faithful execution of the laws of the United States and protecting property in the charge of courts of the United States, the president deems it necessary to employ a part of the military forces of the United States, in pursuance of the statute in that case, made and provided.

Order for Peace.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, do hereby admonish all persons who may be, or come within the State, district or towns aforesaid, against doing, countenancing, encouraging or taking any part in such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages and I hereby warn all persons in any manner connected therewith to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective bodies on or before 12 o'clock noon of the sixth day of November.

"Those who disregard this warning and persist in taking part with a riotous mob in forcibly resisting and obstructing the execution of the laws, or interfering with the functions of the government, or destroying or attempting to destroy property in he custody of the courts of the United States, or under its direction, can not be regarded otherwise than as public enemies.

"Troops employed against such combinations and assemblages of persons will act with all the moderation and forbearance consistent with the accomplishment of their duty in the premises, but all citizens must realize that, if they mingle with or become a part of such riotous assemblages, there will be no opportunity for discretion in the methods employed in dealing with such assemblages. The only safe course, therefore, for those not intentionally participating in such unlawful proceedure is to abide at their homes, or, at least not to go or remain in the neighborhood of such riotous assemblages.

(Signed) "Woodrow Wilson."

SHERMAN IS ELECTED.

Defeated Sullivan in Illinois by Six Thousand or More Votes.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican, was reelected to the United States Senate over Roger C. Sullivan, Democrat, by an estimated plurality of 6,000 or more, according to the returns tonight from Tuesday's election, Raymond Robins, Progressive, was a poor third.

With only 300 small rural precincts to hear from an dan average plurality of 22 to the precinct for Sherman outside of Chicago, Sherman's down State lead was 62,631 as against plurality for Sullivan in Cook county of 56,599.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4.—One thousand twenty-six precincts out of 2,503 in the State give for prohibition 76,961; against 76,605. Most of the outstanding precincts are inrural districts and prohibition campaign managers assert they will give a heavy "dry" majority.

RUSINESS MATTERS RAWIDLY IMPROVE

Work of International Conference Completed.

NO MORE GOLD EXPORTS

Only One More Question to be Adjusted—Opening of London Market Might Complicate American Financial Situation.

Washington, Nov. 4. — Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackette, of the English Treasury, practically have ended their mission in America, and as a consequence of their conferences with the Federal Reserve Board and New York bankers, it was indicated tonight that no further steps need be taken for the present to arrange for shipments of Amrican gold to Europe.

The conferences have brought the conviction that the matter of American debts abroad will be adjusted through the natural avenues of trade and through the special machinery already set up. The $100,000,000 gold pool, the New York city syndicate and American crops are expected to take care of the present American indebtedness.

It is said Sir George agreed that no issue of short term notes will be necessary to match the balance in favor of England, which the gold pool and the New York syndicate will leave. Revived trade, officials believe, soon will eat up the outstanding amounts. If the same view is taken by the British Treasury, American banks will not be drained of their gold at the time when they are about to shift their reserves to Federal Reserve banks.

Only one matter remains to be adjusted. There is still fear that if the London stock exchange opens for business, thousands of shares of American securities will be put on the market at bargain prices bound to attract American investors. Such a dumping of American stocks would send the American balance on the wrong side of the ledger and lead to conditions under which England might feel she must ask for cash.

London Exchange Is Open.

That phase of the problem has been given much thought. It has become apparent that the English government intends to allow the reopening of the London exchange in the near future. It was suggested that co-operation of American bankers would tend to make it hard for prospective buyers of American stocks abroad to get loans here. The banks of the country and the Federal Reserve Board have worked in close harmony since the war began, and there has been a marked inclination on the part of bankers to get the ear of the board before undertaking any vital step. That bankers might be willing to respect the board's wishes in the matter of loans of this chartcter would not be surprising news to officials here.

The board may find a powerful lever in the Currency act itself. It permits any Federal Reserve Bank to discount notes, drafts and bills of exchange of members banks where they are issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial or commercial purposes, or the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for such purposes. But this definition, the law specifically states, "shall not include notes, drafts or bills covering merely investment securities, except bonds and notes of the government of the United States."

Armed with this provisions, member banks, it is said, will be able to explain to customers who seek loans for stock buying purposes that their paper will not be discounted by the Reserve bank, and that in consequence the member bank must refuse.

Sir George was said tonight to be in touch with the home government. If arrangements can be made to take care of the stock exchange situation, he probably will meet with the Federal Reserve Board tomorrow at a final conference.

It has been the opinion in well informed circles here that the New York Stock Exchange would stay closed until after the first of the year.

PEACE IN THE BASEBALL WORLD DEPENDS ON VOTE

American League Magnates May Declare for Peace With Federals.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—American League club owners at a special meeting here tomorrow probably will cast their votes for war or peace in the baseball world. Negotiations with the Federal League are known to have been carried to an extent which requires only sanction of the rulers of the game to bring peace.

SUFFRAGISTS ARE HAPPY

Returns Show Victory in Two States—A Chance in Two Others.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Woman suffrage leaders rejoiced tonight when belated returns indicated that votes for women apparently had been granted in two of the seven States voting on the question Tuesday, with a third State in doubt. First returns had indicated refusal of the franchise to women in all seven.

Montana and Nevada, according to latest returns, granted votes to women, while Nebraska showed such a small vote against the proposed that the women claimed the State. Missouri, North and South Dakota refused to grant equal suffrage. In Montana the vote was so close that the official count will be necessary to decide the outcome, but the women have a slight lead according to incomplete returns. In Nevada which seems won to the cause of equal suffrage, 105 precincts out of 240 gave more than 1,500 majority.

WAR BETWEEN THE ALLIES AND TURKEY NOW ASSURED

Latter Government Has Definitely Broken Off Diplomatic Relations With Great Britain, France, Russia and Servia. Triple Entente Already Taking Warlike Action.

FORTS OF DARDANELLES UNDER BOMBARDMENT

Anglo-French Fleet Attempting to Open Pass Held by Ottoman Empire—Greece Said to be Preparing to Side With Allies — German Army in Belgium Retreating—German Warships Off British Coast.

London, Nov. 4.—Turkey has definitely broken off diplomatic relations with Great Britain, Frnace, Russia and Servia. Her diplomatic representatives in the capitals of these countries, acting upon orders from the Porte, today demanded and received their passoprts. Some already have left, while the others will depart tomorrow.

Although no statement to this effect has been given out, it is understood Turkey's apology for the actions of her fleet in bombarding Russian Black sea ports and Russian ships was unacceptable to the Triple Entente powers, in that Turkey was not prepared to accede to a demand that German officers in her service be dismissed and the ships purchased from Germany dismantled.

The powers which the Ottoman government thus defied are already taking warlike action against Turkey. The British have destroyed Fort Akabah, in Arabia, the Russians have invaded Asia Minor, and an Anglo-French fleet is bombarding the forts of the Dardanelles.

Now that Turkey has aligned herself among the nations at war, speculation is rife as to what the other Balkan powers will do. Greece is said to be preparing to take sides with the allies, while Bulgaria has given assurances of her neutrality. Bulgaria, however, is mobilizing, for, as a Bulgarian diplomat said: "With Turkey in the arena of the war, Bulgaria must be prepared for any eventualities."

Next to the Turkish situation, the appearance of German warships off the English coast is causing most of the discussion today.

"The fact that the Germans did lay mines seem to indicate to the naval experts here that the ships engaged in this work were old ones. These experts argue that Germany would not take such risks with new vessels. As if to prove their contention, the experts say that the firing at the British cruiser Halcyon, which resulted in slight damage to that vessel, showed that the Germans were not armed with modern guns.

Official reports of the fighting on land as issued today recorded only advances at various points and repulses of the enemy's attacks at several points. In fact, there is no great change in the situation, according to these reports. It is announced that the Germans have given up their positions along the Yser, having been driven outby the flooded condition of the country and the gun fire of the allied troops and warships.

The Germans, however, have kept up their attacks in all its lines around Ypres, where the British troops are fighting. Although there is evidence that the new main effort of Emperior William's forces to break through at this point has not really commenced, the Germans continue to bring up reinforcements to their lines, as have the Germans, and express confidence that a new attack will prove as fruitless asprevious ones.

The Indian troops and the pick of the English territorial forces have distinguished themselves in the fighting and come in for compliments from General French.

For the trend of events on the East Prussian frontier reliance has to be placed entirely in the Russian report, as the German headquarters say nothing about it. The Russians, according to a Petrograd reports, have defeated a German offensive movement from East Prussia and the Germans are retreating across their own frontier, leaving large quantities of arms and ammunition behind them.

In Poland, according to the Russians, the Germans are continuing to fall back, while farther South the Russians at last have the Austro German forces, forming their right wing, on the move, and have captured the important towns of Kielce and Sandomir, and taken two hundred off icers and 15,000 men and several dozen guns ano machine guns.

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK.

Fierce Attacks of Austrians on Russian Forces Also Are Repulsed.

Petrograd, Nov. 4.—The following official communication from the Russian general staff headquarters was given out here tonight:

"A sudden change has been noted since November 3 on the East Prussian front, where the enemy, which recently has been on the defensive almost everywhere, has begun to fall back at certain points. This retreat is precipitate on the left wing of the enemy, which was vigorously thrown back toward Biala and Lyck. Our troops took Bakalarjevo, capturing a large quantity of arms and ammunition and making prisoners of a German company.

"On the left bank of the Vistula the Germans continue their precipitate retreat towards the frontier. Their rear guards have been dislodged from Kolo and Przedborg. On the morning of November 3 we drove back the Austrians toward Kielce, which place our troops occupied, taking 600 prisoners and machine guns. On the same day we won a decisive victory over the Austrians along the whole front from Kielce to Sandomir. The enemy fell back with all speed. Our troops took Sandomir, which is an important strategical point.

"In the region south of Kulce during the past week we have captured 200 officers and 1,500 soldiers and have taken a large number of cannon as well as machine guns. During the night of November 3 the Austrians made a series of attacks which were fiery, but futile and they retreated. Our troops took a firm footing in the region of Nisko and Rudnik.

"There is nothing to report from the rest of the front.

"The Turkish fleet is in the Black Sea with a base in the Bosphorus. Apparently they are trying to avoid a fight with our forces."

GERMANS ARE RETREATING.

Belgian Official Report Says Victory on Coast Rests With Allies.

Havre, via Paris, Nov. 4.—The Belgian minister of war today made public an official report received by him from Furnes, on the Belgian coast, half way between Dunkirk and Ostend, the text of which is as follows:

"Detachments of allied troops which today pushed ahead as far as Lombaertzyde, on the Yser front below Schoorbakke, failed to discover any of the enemy. Only small detachments of artillery still remain in the direction of Westende and to the north and east of Schoorbakke. Small portions of the enemy's rear guard are still holding several bridges and farm houses on the left bank of the river, near Stuyvenkenskerke.

"An almost unbroken column of the enemy, composed of all arms and extending from Lake to Thourout has marched in an easterly direction. No forces of the enemy of any importance are reported east of the Yser, but several supply trains have proceeded from Thourout in the direction of Roulers and Deynze, on the Lys.

"It is confirmed that the heroic resistance of our troops on the Yser and the successful intervention of detachments of the allies caused considerable losses to the Third and Twenty-Second Reserve Corps of the enemy and mowed them down to the extent that their check amounts to a real disaster.

"To the south of the Yser the Twenty-Third German Reserve Corps was obliged to give ground before the offensive of the allies. To the east of the Yser and Ypres, between Dixschoote and Zonnebe[illegible] the situation has not been modified.

CHICAGO STOCK YARDS ARE ORDERED TO CLOSE

For Ten Days in Fight Against Dread Disease.

Conference of Packers, Dealers, Commissioners and the Governor of the State Decide on Measure of Precaution.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—After a conference here today between members of the state board of live stock commissioners and the leading stock dealers and packers with Governor Dunne, the Chicago stock yards, the largest in the world, were ordered closed for a period of ten days, in the campaign against the hoof and mouth disease.

The stock yards, it was officially stated, probably will remain closed ten days. The order will go into effect at the close of business November 6th and continue until the opening of business November 16th.

In ten days it is planned to rid the stock yards of contagion. The process of elimination will include the destruction of infected cattle, the disinfection of cattle pens and the killing of rats. The immediate effect of the suspension order will be to stop shipments of cattle, sheep and hogs to the Chicago market, which amount to almost 100,000 head daily.

All cattle carrying railroads were notified not to accept live stock for the Chicago market. The closing cuts off at once the chief market for 22 cattle raising states.

It was said that stock, instead of being sent to Chicago for slaughter, will be sent to Kansas City and other points.

F. E. White, a director in Armour & Company, said he believed neither the meat industry nor meat prices would be affected by the suspension of the Chicago end of the business.

WORST EVER KNOWN.

Disease Threatens Nation's Food Supply—May Need Money.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The outbreak of foot and mouth disease among live stock which has forced Federal quarantine over six states, and threatens a temporary reduction of the nation's food supply, is the worst ever known in the United States, according to Agricultural Department reports. An emergency appropriation by Congress may be required to finance the campaign to suppress the epidemic.

New York and Maryland were added to the list of quarantined states today. In Maryland the diseased cattle were discovered at Hagerstown. Inspectors of the shipment traced the cattle from Chicago.

Even should the epidemic not leap beyond the bounds already marked by it, some three months will pass before most of the quarantine now imposed will be lifted, according to department officials.

Senator Newlands, of Nevada, seemed in danger of losing his seat to Samuel Ulatt, Republican.

In States where the fight was hottest victory practically was assured for Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican in Illinois; Hubert Work, Republican in Colorado; Jas. D. Phelan, Democrat in California; Benj. F. Shiveley, Democrat in Indiana; Chas. Curtis, Republican in Kansas; Warren G. Harding, Republican in Ohio, and Chas. H. Burke, Republican, in South Dakota.

WILL NOT CONTEST ELECTION

C. Ed Taylor, Esq., Republican Nominee for State Senate, Satisfied With Honest Expression.

C. Ed Taylor, Esq., of Southport, Republican nominee for the State Senate from the Tenth Senatorial district, composed of the counties of New Hanover and Brunswick, will not contest the election of Mr. W. B. Cooper, of Wilmington, the Democratic nominee, on account of the unfortunate mix-up of the ticket voted in Tuesday's election, according to a telephone message received from him yesterday by Robert Ruark, Esq., of the Wilmington bar.

Mr. Taylor phoned Mr. Ruark that he had information at Southport with reference to the mistake in the original ballot voted in New Hanover Tuesday and the attempt to correct the mistake by putting on stickers, and while he recognized that there was a technical point involved, he had no disposition to advantage himself of it and if Mr. Ruark thought that the ballots as cast were an honest expression of the voters, that he would not be disposed to try to take advantage of the technicality.

Mr. Ruark told Mr. Taylor that he was satisfied there had been an honest expression of the voters and Mr. Taylor then authorized Mr. Ruark to say that he would raise no question as to the validity of the election.

This action on the part of Mr. Taylor is regarded by his hundreds of personal friends in New Hanover as altogether commendable and was simply what they expected from him, knowing him as a man of character and fair play, regardless of politics. As a high type of young man Mr. Taylor has few equals in the regard of practically his entire acquaintance in New Hanover and his magnanimous action in the matter on Tuesday is being favorably commented upon everywhere.

BASKETBALL AT BRIGADE

Rebels Defeat Bugs and Orioles Win From Skeeters by Close Score.

The basketball games at the boys' brigade proved as predicted, such as to call forth all the pent up enthusiasm in one's nature. These younger players have been steadily improving until at the present time they are playing a high class of ball. The opening game was between the Bugs and Rebels. This was a very one sided game in every particular as the Bugs and Rebels seem to lack most of the finest points of the game, their passing, team work, handling of the ball and goal shooting being far short of the kind displayed by the other teams. Their work is slow also as compared with the others.

In contrast to their work the Rebels showed much speed, clever passing and team work which kept their opponents confused most of the time. In the first half the Rebels caged the ball for 11 points and the Bugs but four and these were all from the foul line, they failing to secure a single field goal. In the second half the Rebels opened up in earnest and before the session had ended they had secured 12 field goals and three foul goals for a total of 27 points, while the best the Bugs could do was one field goal and two foul goals, for four points. The total score was Rebels 38, Bugs 8.

The second game was a far better exhibition, as these teams are both good, and they showed much class in their work. In the first half the Orioles secured 20 points and the Skeeters 12. It looked as though the Skeeters were in for a bad defeat but they came back strong in the second half and by fast work coupled with accurate goal shooting, they secured 13 points to 7 for the Orioles. However, this was just not enough to win as the final score was: Orioles 27; Skeeters 25. The two points by which the Orioles won were awarded by the referee. To select any player as star would be difficult as all played excellent ball though the good work of James at forward for the Orioles and Futrell for the Skeeters was very fast and good while the shooting of Rourk took the lead, he securing five goals from field, while his nearest competitor was James with four. The guard work of each player was fine.

SUPERIOR COURT AGAIN IN SESSION THIS WEEK.

Mistrial in Case of F. O. Schrodinger Against J. F. Woolvin.

Superior Court for the trial of civil cases convened again yesterday morning after a recess of two days, with Judge Oliver H. Allen presiding, and will continue in session for the remainder of the week. A mistrial resulted in the case of F. O. Schrodinger against J. F. Woolvin, involving an amount of approximately $200. The case went to the jury early in the afternoon and the jury stayed out until 10 o'clock last night. After reporting to Judge Allen that they were unable to agree, the jury was discharged.

When court adjourned yesterday afternoon the case of Schloss, Bear, Davis Company against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., was being tried. This is for a small amount of money alleged to be due for injured stock. The plaintiff is represented by J. Felton Head, Esq., and Hon. John D. Bellamy is appearing for the defendant.

The case of C. R. Humphrey against M. M. Caldwell was continued and set for trial on the first day of the next term of civil court. Judgment of nonsuit was entered in the case of Geo. W. Dawson against W. H. Hill. Alias summons was issued in the case of K. C. Sidbury against Eddie N. Bryan.

"FIGHT UNTIL DEATH" ----GENERAL CARRANZA

Declares That His Resignation Was Not Offered.

Did Not Authorize the Presentation of His Resignation to Convention and Promises to Fight to Death, if He is Upheld.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 4.—General Carranza today issued a statement declaring that the presentation of his resignation as "first chief" of the Constitutionalists to the convention at Aguas Calientes was unauthorized, according to a dispatch received at the Mexican consulate here.

"These valiant generals have made effective a resignation that was not forwarded my me, and, in their appointment of a provisional president, they have fallen into a trap prepared by men who were largely responsible for the overthrow of the Madero government," the statement says.

General Carranza avows his intention "to fight until death," the statement continues, if he is sustained in his present attitude by any of the Constitutionalist chiefs.

SECRETARY DANIELS VISITS HIS MOTHER IN GOLDSBORO.

Administration's Friendship for South Cost Votes in North.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 4.—Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, spent this afternoon in the city on a brief visit to his mother. In discussion of the decrease in the Democratic vote in the nation with friends, he said that in his opinion this was due to the present administration's disposition to help the South which he also believed was the cause of New York State going Republican.

AN ADDITIONAL SIX MONTHS

George Brown, Colored, Convicted of Raiding Chicken House.

George Brown, colored, was convicted in the recorder's court yesterday of raiding Mr. Joe Roderick's chicken house on last Friday night and was given an additional six months on the county roads. He was convicted Monday of stealing a crate of ducks from Rev. J. S. Crowley and was given six months on this charge. He asserted that he bought the chickens which were found at his home from Arthur McNeal, colored, but the other evidence in the case did not indicate this and McNeal was released.

Amelia Burnett, colored, was found not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and Rachel Sampson, colored, was acquitted of a charge of disorderly conduct. Eugene Pitt, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was called and failed to appear. A capias was issued for his arrest.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

Members of Bladen Street Methodist Church Meet Tonight.

The members of Bladen Street Methodist church are requested to meet at the church tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of holding a conference to discuss plans for the work of next year. Rev. T. G. Vickers, the pastor, is just closing his first year's pastorate and the work under his care has made great progress.

His report at the annual conference, which meets in Washington, N. C., November 18 will show all the assessments paid in full and a gratifying increase in the membership of the church.

Deeds Filed for Record.

The following deeds were filed with the Register of Deeds yesterday:

Mr. G. A. P. Bowman and wife to the Dixie Land and Development Company, for $10 and other consideration, several lots and parcels of land on the Federal Point Road known as Lake Side Park; Mr. J. J. Loughlin and wife to Mr. H. H. Clark, for $100 and other considerations, lot on south side of Kidder street, 66 feet west of 16th street, 66 by 100 feet in size.

Market Street Improvement.

The contractors for the bitulithic pavement on Market street, from Eleventh to Seventeenth, are already beginning for work on their contract for this paving and yesterday a quantity of drainage pipe was unloaded preparatory to beginning the work. The curbing for both sides of the street is on the way and will be delivered during the week. There seems to be nothing new now in the way of an early completion of this improvement.

Young People Married.

Mr. Percy H. Thorp and Miss Rosa Lorenzo were married last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Immanuel Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Crowley. There were a number of friends present at the wedding.

Funeral of Little Daughter.

The funeral of little Nellie May Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Barnett, was conducted from the residence, No. 12 Queen street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

WILL CARRANZA SUBMIT?

Washington, Nov. 4.—General Villa has placed himself under the orders of Eulalio Gutierrez, the newly declared provisional president of Mexico, but the attitude of General Carranza remains to be developed, it was said at the State Department today.

VISITORS THRONG BAZAAR

Opening of Beautiful Display at Germania Club Yesterday Afternoon. Continues Today.

A vast throng of people crowded the rooms of the Germania club last evening at the opening of the three-day bazaar which is being given under the auspices of the ladies of the German-American Aid Society, for the purpose of raising funds to be sent to war sufferers in Germany. The formal opening was at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The bazaar will open this afternoon and also tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and continue through the remainder of the afternoon and evening. Supper will be served each evening beginning at 6 o'clock.

The rooms of the club have been artistically decorated with Southern smilax ad autumn flowers, presenting a most attractive effect. The entrance hall and the center of the main hall have been decorated with the American and German colors by the C. W. Polvogt Company.

An attractive feature of the bazaar is formed by the booths which are also decorated with flowers and the German and American colors. There is the flower booth, the post card booth, novelty booth, candy booth, art shop, the country store, the chance booth and others. These are located in the large hall on the second floor. Located on this floor also are the departments for the sale of ice cream and cake. Supper and lunches are served on the first floor in a large room which has been attractively decorated.

Several of the prizes were awarded last evening. The sweater donated by Mr. S. W. Connor was won by Mr. Summey. Mr. Walter Lamb won the basket of fruit. Mrs. Otto Banck won the basket of flowers, donated by Mrs. W. Rehder. Miss Kate Grotgen won the bride doll.

In addition to the list of donors published in yesterday's Star the following have also made donations: Mr. D. L. Gore, Mrs. Kate Williams, Mrs. Rennie, Mrs. Horace Springer, Mrs. J. Well, Mrs. A. H. Harriss, Mr. A. D. Brown, Mrs. E. Allen, Mr. W. J. Bellamy, Mr. N. MacEachern, Mr. Charles Terry, French Millinery, Mr. Henry Bear, Mr. Walter Lamb, a friend, Mrs. Fishblate, Mrs. I. Solomon, Mrs. L. B. Blenthenthal, Mrs. Liebman, Mrs. Joyner, Mrs. Sallng, Mrs. Munds, Mrs. A. Shrier, Mr. J. T. Harper, City Laundry, Eureka Pressing Club, Mr. T. J. Wood, Mrs. G. Hewlett.

The list of donations male by Germans will not be published.

FRIDAY NIGHT LEAGUE PLAYS AT BRIGADE TONIGHT

Two Brilliant Games of Basketball Are Promised Spectators.

While all the games in the Friday Night Basketball League have been far above the average this season, those of tonight will probably eclipse any yet played this season as all of the players are now in good condition and they have perfected their team work which requires a little time because of the complete changes made in the personnel of the teams at the beginning of the season. However, they have now worn the rough edges off and they will put up two classy games tonight.

The Giants will contend with the Cardinals and the Naps and Braves will meet for the third time. This should be an especially brilliant game as both teams are very fast, know the game in all its details and always do some clever work, especially when pitted against each other. In their last meeting the Naps almost put it over the Braves and they feel confident that they can do so this time.

The Giants will probably have their full line-up out tonight while the Cardinals will be minus their captain, Irving, but his place will be filled with some good substitute. The games will begin at 8:30 sharp. The public, especially the ladies, are invited to witness the sport free of charge. Seats will be provided for everybody. The officials will be, referee, Chas. Dushan; timer, Harry Dixon; scorers, L. T. Davis and Frank Litgen.

Visit the Grand Bazaar of the German-American Ladies' Aid Society, Howard Relief Club, corner Front and Orange. Open after 4 o'clock p. m. on the 4th, 5th and 6th. Welcome to all.—Advertisement. 3t

Firestone Tires are Sold at Average Price

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES—RESINOL CURED

Atlanta, Ga., April 24, 1913.—"My face was covered with pimples which defied creams, soaps and cosmetics. They were a source of constant humiliation to me, coming in contact with many strangers as I do, as a business woman.

"By the time I had finished a cake of Resinol Soap and half a jar of Resinol Ointment, my skin was soft as velvet, and as smooth. My friends were stunned, and everyone asked me what I had done. When I told them, I think they hardly believed it, for the transformation was simply wonderful.

"Since then I have been using Resinol Soap and shall never be without it again, for I have learned the delights of a clear, soft, beautiful complexion that may be attained by its constant use." (Signed) Miss E. P. Gaddis, 284 South Pryor St.

RALEIGH IS PREPARING FOR BAPTISTS OF STATE

State Convention to Meet At First Church December 8

Governor Craig Gratified at Majorities Received by Democrats in Election—Endorsement of Wilson Administration.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—The congregation of the First Baptist church is preparing to entertain the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, which convenes here December 8th, with Rev. C. H. Durham as the presiding officer. It is estimated that a thousand or more Baptists from every section of the State will be here for the convention, which is the largest religious convention that the State has.

Governor Craig Gratified.

Governor Craig, in the executive offices today after a week spent campaigning in Western Carolina and in Asheville yesterday to vote, said that he is much gratified at the outcome of the election both in the State and the Nation, that it is evident that the people have sustained the policy of President Wilson. The measures adopted by the present Congress, he said, were of a new order and challenged the attention of the whole country and that the fact that the next Congress is to be Democratic shows that the policy and the measures of the present administration will be sustained and that President Wilson will continue the great reforms he has begun.

The Governor said that he regrets very much that Congressman Gudger seems to have lost in the Tenth district and that while the loss of the district is a disappointment, the result is not a surprise, and that the continued overwhelming Democratic majorities in the State insure the continuation of the enjoyment by the people of the good government with which the State has been blessed since 1900.

Charters Issued.

Charters were issued today for three new corporations as follows:

The Ashley Horne Corporation, Clayton, N. C., capital $100,000, chartered to take over a portion of the estate of the late Col. Ashley Horne, with Mrs. Ashley Horne, Mrs. Nettie Horne McCullers, Chas. W. Horne and Miss Swannanoa Horne as the incorporators. The company has authority to develop farm, timber and city lands, farm and engage in agriculture generally, operate mills, factories of various sorts and do a general corporate business, organization to be effected November 5th.

The Farmers' & Merchants' Cotton Warehouse Co., of Mount Olive, capital $25,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by J. W. Kelly and others, for storing cotton and issuing negotiable certificates of deposit.

The East End Realty Co., of Charlotte, capital $125,000 authorized and $50,000 subscribed by L. C. Smith, and Carter, of Polkton, and H. H. McLendon, of Wadesboro, for real estate development.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN TO BE MADE SATURDAY.

A. & M. College Event of Interest—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—The cross country run, to determine who will be the members of the 'varsity track team of the A. & M. College, will be held Saturday, November 14th. The men making the required run in the best time will be given a gold medal by the athletic association. A number of merchants of Raleigh will give other prizes. Twenty-seven men will constitute the team.

Games have been arranged with Wake Forest and Trinity, one to be held with each college in Raleigh and one with each college on their respective fields. Manager Atkinson is making efforts to secure meets with Washington and Lee and Virgina Polytechnic Institute. The A. & M. College will be represented at the South Atlantic meet at Baltimore in April.

B. C. Boyles, of Durham county, has been elected historian of the Freshman class. A rally meeting was held Monday night in the interest of the Freshman football team and much enthusiasm aroused. This team will play the high schools of Wilmington and Greensboro, provided dates can be arranged.

Dr. B. F. Kaupp, a specialist in poultrying, will arrive this week to become a member of the faculty and also do some extension work at the experiment station. Dr. Kaupp has become recognized as a poultry expert throughout the nation, and the college will thus be equipped well in this department.

The Tennis Club has been permanently organized and efforts will be made to have an intercollegiate here next spring, as soon as the baseball schedule has been arranged.

LOUIS W. PARKER RESIGNS.

As President of the Parker Cotton Mills Company—String of Mills.

Greenville, S. C., No. 4.—Louis W. Parker, president of the string of cotton mills comprising the Parker Cotton Mills Company, today resigned as president, and Alexander MacBeth resigned as treasurer. M. C. Branch, of Richmond, Va., was elected president and W. E. Beattie, of this city, was elected treasurer. The Parker Cotton Mills Company is one of the largest chains of mills in the United States, comprising a number of the largest mills in this state.

PRESBYTERIANS ACCEPT GIFT FOR NEW CHURCH

Will Receive $60,000 If They Raise $20,000.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 4.—The members of the Presbyterian church decided Sunday to accept the offer of G. W. Watts relative to the building of a new church. The acceptance was unanimous and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Watts. Mr. Watts' offer was that he would give $60,000 toward the building of a new church if the congregation would raise an additional $20,000. The new church is to cost $80,000 and will occupy the site of the present house of worship. It was also decided to build a new parsonage for the new church and will occupy a part of the ground on which the parsonage now stands.

Both men and women members of the church had held meetings and had agreed separately to accept the Watts offer and the decision was merely a joint decision of what had already been agreed upon separately. Committees were appointed at the meeting and they will begin at once getting things in a shape for the building of the church. The congregation hardly expects to start work before spring, but they intend to have everything in full readiness when warm weather opens up and the work will be pushed to completion.

WILSON NOT PLEASED WITH HER "COUNTY COURT."

May Ask Legislature to Repeal the Act—Warehouse Completed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 4.—Since the establishment of the Recorder's court or the "county court" as it is usually termed, the result has not been satisfactory to the majority of the citizens, and the board of county commissioners are clearly of the opinion that the next Legislature should be asked to abolish the court. At the last session of the board the matter was discussed and several members of the local bar appeared and asked for another trial of the court. One of the objections to the court is the statement that is merely an additional expense with very little benefit to the people of the county, as in very few instances are trials in that court finally ended, it being the usual procedure to appeal to the Superior court.

The Wilson County Co-Operative cotton storage warehouse, erected by the efforts of farmers and town people formally opened Tuesday. The receipts for the first day went to 150 bales. The management announces storage rates of about half the usual charge and hopes to popularize the warehouse.

The first number of the Lyceum course is the coming to Wilson of the Weatherwax Quartette tonight.

OFF FOR COLUMBIA FRIDAY.

Wake Forest to Meet University of South Carolina Saturday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 4.—Wake Forest's football team will leave Friday for Columbia where they will meet the strong team of the University of South Carolina Saturday. Coach Smith is giving the boys hard training preparing them for the battle. Last year the University outplayed Wake Forest in the last two quarters and overcame a lead of ten to seven and defeated them 27 to 10. After having shut out the strong Roanoke elven here last Saturday 19 to 0, the team and students are hoping that the results this Saturday will be another scalp in their belt. The team is in excellent condition, not a man so far this season has been seriously injured; they all have been observing training strictly.

WOMEN OF THE NORTH TAKE KINDLY TO USE OF COTTON.

Old-Fashioned Washable Cotton Underskirt Coming Into Vogue.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Women of the North are taking kindly to the new fashion decree which has brought back into popular favor the old washable petticoat. At the headquarters of the Fashion Art League of America, in the Michigan Boulevard building, which promulgated the fashion decree, it was declared today that words of approval are coming in from all parts of the United States especially from the North, where the utility of the lingerie underskirt is appreciated these cold days. With the newly fashioned short, wide skirts which women of good taste are adapting, the cotton petticoat comes as the next thing to a necessity. It protects the wearer from cold and exposure.

"The popularity of the cotton underskirt will increase the cotton consumption in the United States very materially," said Mme. Alla Ripley, president of the Fashion Art League of America. "You can figure it out for yourself. Each skirt will use up from two to four yards of cotton. The average woman will have from four to six of the skirts in her wardrobe. Now find out how many million women there are in America and you can tell how many billion yards of cotton goods this new fashion decree will add to consumption."

Wide skirts are seen with great frequency on Michigan Boulevard daily, where the fashionables of Chicago promenade every afternoon.

REV. L. L. JOHNSON DEAD.

Former Trinity Student and Member Oklahoma Conference.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 4.—Rev. L. L. Johnson, a former student of Trinity College, for a number of years a member of the Oklahoma Conference, died in Oklahoma a few days ago. Mr. Johnson was a minister of prominence, having served for several years as presiding elder in his Conference. He was for several years a member of the North Carolina Conference, and was at one time pastor of Carr church in East Durham.

U. of SS. C. Defeats Wofford.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 4.—University of South Carolina defeated Wofford College here today by the score of 25 to 0. Wofford was outweighed, but put up a good defense. Carolina scored one touchdown in each quarter, but could kick goal but once.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily and mailed to subscribers outside the county at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; or served by carrier in the city and suburbs at 60c. per month, or, when paid in advance, $7.00 per year, $3.50 for six months, $1.75 for three months.

THE SUNDAY STAR by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51. Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable and all communications should be addressed to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1914.

What next?

The question is whether Turkey is in the soup or not.

Take-it-for-granted Democrats are responsible for a light vote in North Carolina.

A November that is as delightful as May is the November that North Carolina is enjoying up to now.

In spite of a woman's happiness at a wedding she sheds a few tears because it may be more of a serious than a happy affair.

The South will be compelled to raise food crops next year because the prospective price of cotton will not enable her to buy food.

The Columbia State insists that "Prosperity is approaching." Let it approach. Hereafter we will try to stand prosperity better than ever before.

General Guittierrez has been named provisional president of Mexico, but it is not stated whether he is willing to become the new storm center of the Republic.

Things look ominous in Mexico again. Two groups of Mexicans want to fight each other and at least one group wants to chase the United States forces from Vera Cruz.

Some of the Congressmen who voted for the mileage grab will not be in the grab game after the fourth of next March. They have been elected to stay at home and worry over it.

It is said that the cost of living in France and Germany, even during war times, is cheaper than it is in the United States. At the same time, the thing we like about living in America is that the chance of living here is better than it is in Europe.

When times are hard, play on the soft pedal. In so-called days of prosperity many people have seen harder times than even these war times. Times never are so good as people imagine and they never are so hard as some pretend to believe.

Mr. Oscar A. dePolo, a New York exporter and importer, is the author of a "Made in U. S. A." design to be printed on American commodities for export. Mr. A. dePolo's name doesn't look as if it has ever been made over in the United States. However, we know of a native whose name is O'Shaughnessy.

Hoch der schmartness of the American journalists. They ingeniously denounce militarism in Europe but advocate the strengthening of the American army and navy and call it "military efficiency," "better preparedness for eventualities," "precautions for national safety," etc. By hokey, that's what the other fellows think militarism stands for.

The election is over but the war in Europe goes on. Probably Southern Republicans will admit now that the war has made a market for food stuffs and destroyed the market for cotton. A Democratic administration could not be blamed for low cotton without getting credit for good prices for wheat, corn, flour, meat, etc. However, sensible Republicans and Democrats know that the war has helped that part of the country which can feed soldiers and has injured that part of it which has cotton and has no market for it.

Once before when the South produced as large a crop of cotton as she has this year the price dropped from about fourteen cents a pound to around eight cents, about the beginning of the marketing season, and went but little higher during the balance of the year. That was in 1911, William H. Taft, Republican, was President, and there was no war in Europe to affect the price. The low price that year was attributed to the bumper crop. But this year, with a bumper crop and the biggest part of the world's market cut off by war, the low price is charged to the Democratic administration. Oh, Consistency, thou art a jewel!

CONFIDENCE IS RETURNING.

One reason that we have not been able to go on doing business in this country during the past three months is that the European war suddenly interfered with buying and selling. That is because credit was dislocated by war, while at the same time ocean transportation was demoralized. For a while we could not even export grain and food stuffs but in three months foreign credits have been re-established and buying, selling and shipping of food stuffs is the result. Food was an immediate necessity in Europe. Clothing will soon become a necessity and then cotton will move.

Gradually the business tide is turning and demand is beginning to reassert itself. The financial and commercial press is agreed that the United States is regaining its confidence. Among those who say so are Mr. B. C. Forbes, business editor of the New York American, one of the country's keenest and best posted writers on business and commercial topics. Quite naturally, he says the vague fears excited by the cataclysm in Europe are disappearing.

The war dazed the whole business world. At first we did not know which way to look. We had to stop and get our bearings, but Mr. Forbes declares that "we now know where we stand," and that we "know we stand on solid, firm ground." He declares "obstacle after obstacle is being removed. The highway to prosperity—to a greater prosperity than the nation has ever known—has been cleared of almost the last barrier." He gives in detail the reasons why progress is being made and the situation is rapidly improving. From his logical statement of reasons we make the following summary:

Foreign trade, instead of running strongly against us, is flowing strongly in our favor—exports of merchandise from New York last week were 65 per cent ahead of a year ago, almost three times the total of the third week in August last, and far in excess of imports, a feature that will be strikingly emphasized when the government's complete figures for October are prepared.

Shipping, instead of being paralyzed, is phenomenally active. Never before were so many vessels being hurriedly laden with American produce and products all along the Atlantic seaboard.

The crisis in foreign exchange, which compelled American business men to pay an inordinate premium to settle acounts in Europe, has been overcome.

The Federal Reserve Bank system, scheduled to go into effect November sixteenth, will release, Washington declares, reserves totalling more than $450,000,000, thus permitting of a colossal amount of new credit.

Money, recently unborrowable, is becoming distinctly more plentiful, and every sound concern should shortly be able to obtain on reasonable terms all the facilities it can legitimately demand.

New York bankers, in place of a huge deficit, on Saturday were able to show a very comfortable surplus. The inquiry for gilt-edged investments is broadening daily, and it can be stated on first-hand authority that the very wealthiest interests in America are anxious to lay in enormous quantities of securities before the inevitable rebound in prices occurs—a rebound that must come, sooner or later, for the war cannot go on forever.

The cotton situation has been relieved sufficiently to warrant those in authority at Washington and at foreign and home financial centers to make the announcement that the Cotton Exchanges here and abroad will resume operations about November 16.

Generous credits are being established here by European governments and orders for war and other materials are causing many American plants to work night and day, while grain is being shipped in unprecedented volume, and cotton is now beginning to move freely in consequence of having been declared non-contraband by all the belligerents. The oversea demand for American foodstuffs, American manufactures and American metals cannot but expand enormously as additional millions of European workers forsake their productive occupations and shoulder rifles.

The extension of America's trade activities in foreign fields has been taken up systematically by the keenest brains of the country, and with enthusiastic co-operation on the part of our legislators, our financiers, our banks and our industrial enterprises, the results give every promise of being on a scale that will go far toward placing the United States at the very forefront of the world's commercial nations.

There are many other reasons why business conditions all over the country are improving and that sooner or later the same effect will be felt in the South. The war struck the South at its time for marketing cotton, but by being patient and holding on to our cotton values with confidence, the trend of good times will be Southward.

MADE IN AMERICA.

As we begin this we light our Havana with a match taken from a box on which is printed "Made in Austria." If you will keep your eyes open while making purchases you will observe on the wrappers or packages the printed proclamation, "Made in Germany," "Made in Switzerland," "Made in Belgium," "Made in France," etc. By peering into nearly every shop window in Wilmington you will see that they contain articles made in foreign countries and so labeled.

It is a good advertisement for the manufacturers of those continental European countries, but at first it was not so intended. The tariff laws of some of the continental countries require imported manufactures to be labeled, and it is said the custom began in that way. It finally has become a capital advertising idea, and European manufacturers are proud of the label of their countries on their goods, for it speaks for the quality of their commodities and their countries as well.

This advertising idea to boost American manufactures abroad is taking root in the United States. The "Made in U. S. A." Consumers' League was recently organized in New York city. Its object is to further the movement for increasing the purchasing and consumption of American-made goods. State and city locals are being organized throughout the country and women's and junior branches are being instituted, to be affiliated with the parent league.

It is the purpose to hold a "Made in U. S. A." convention and it is proposed to hold it in New York where a "Made in U. S. A." industrial exposition is to be held early next year. An important work of the league will be the listing of a lot of necessary and popular imported goods for which substitute or equivalent American-made articles can be acquired in this country.

The manufacturers ought to be live enough to advertise their own goods, and this work of the league should give them a new wrinkle. It ought to give Wilmington manufacturers a new idea.

THE NEW SPIRIT IN POLITICS

The New Orleans States discusses broad statesmanship as a new spirit in politics. Let us hope there is enough of it to indicate that the day of the narrow, bitter, one ideaed partisan has to give way to the "big man" class in the very near future. The States thus refers to one of the broadminded type of men so sadly missed by their absence from the political arena:

"In a recent speech made in Kansas City, Henry J. Allen, the Republican candidate for governor of Kansas, presented the spectacle of a party candidate defending the National administration of an opposition party."

Mr. Allen happened to be the Progressive candidate in Kansas instead of the Republican nominee. It is just the same, however, so far as his broadmindedness is concerned. During his campaign he spoke well of the Wilson administration because he was an honest man instead of a demagogue. He aimed at getting elected on his own merits instead of attempting to win by appealing to prejudice and ignorance. That he failed of election because there were three parties in the field, does not detract from the fact that he was a good type of American, whether he were Progressive, Republican or Democratic.

"However much Mr. Allen's speech may have shocked the political nerves of the Bourbons of both parties," says the Kansas City Star, "it was pleasing to the big audience that greeted him, and there is no reason to doubt that it will be approved by the people of progressive Kansas who have paid dearly in money and in the sacrifice of the public welfare for the system of politics which Mr. Allen has the courage to denounce."

Mr. Allen furnishes a good example for politicians who aim at rising above the petty partisan spirit that makes many contemptible in the eyes of fair minded men. The New Orleans States is a Democratic paper of the straightest sect and its commendation of Mr. Allen's spirit of broadmindedness will be endorsed by those who appreciate fairmindedness. This is what that paper says:

"Mr. Allen's speech indicates the new spirit that is going to bring into politics more of the best brains and intelligence of the country—the type of citizenship that abhorred the hypocrisy, doubledealing and buncombe of the old style politics. This spirit was born in the break-up of parties before and during 1912; in the downfall of the old idea of government for party's sake and party rule for the sake of privilege. The course of President Wilson's administration has been taken away from this sort of politics, hence the tribute paid him by the Republican candidate for governor of Kansas."

If the "big men" of all parties would take Mr. Allen for an example it would improve the politics of this country.

PACKING HOUSE FOR SOUTH GEORGIA.

Moultrie is in one of the most progressive sections of Georgia, and because of its new system of agriculture it is getting a great deal of well merited publicity all over America. The farmers of Colquitt county, of which Moultrie is the county site, several years ago abandoned the all-cotton idea and have diversified their agriculture, with the result that the county is independent while other Georgia sections which have stuck to cotton are almost down and out. Colquitt produces all the corn it consumes and is shipping corn by the thousands of bushels. It has become a hog and hominy county. The farmers sell meat, and have gone into the cattle business on such a scale as to make it worth while for capitalists to put a packing house at Moultrie.

Moultrie's packing house was opened with ceremony and enthusiasm on Monday. It is a model and modern plant of its size, and the building and its equipment and refrigeration cost $100,000. The company will invest $200,000 in operating it, and it will furnish a market for the cattle and hog raisers of South Georgia, Southeastern Alabama and North Florida.

Those sections will no longer have to ship their cattle to Chicago for 5 to 7 cents per pound gross. They will get better prices at home. The meat values will be kept in Georgia, and the meat supplies of that section will be conserved for its own people without being shipped back from Chicago or Kansas City. The Moultrie packing house is the largest, except one, of only seven packing houses in the entire South.

The Moultrie chamber of commerce promoted this enterprise and it is one of the results of that progressive body's constructive campaign for diversified farming in South Georgia.

BELGIUM'S NEED.

To the Editor of The Star:

The belligerent nations of Europe profess themselves able to finance their war operations for an indefinite time, and are, therefore, in position to prevent distress to their non-combatants, and it is fortunate that this is true.

But the case of Belgium is altogether different. This little country is in no proper sense a belligerent in the present war, for it declared war on no one, made no aggressions on any one, and is fighting only to protect itself from destruction. Its fields are devastated, its industries and commerce destroyed and its homes uninhabitable, but these are not the full measure of this poor country's calamity. In addition many of its cities have had heavy war tributes laid on them, and the spectacle is perhaps without a parallel in authentic history.

It is needless to say that Belgium is unable to help its people, and the first obligation of Americans is succor to the Belgians. All other considerations pale into insignificance in comparison. Belgium's seven million impoverished and on the verge of starvation call for the last dollar that America can contribute. BELGIUM.

CURRENT COMMENT.

But if its keg has been empty all the time how could that Wilmington club have called itself Independent?—Greensboro News.

If the Republican candidates in the Eighth and Tenth are given the certificates of election it can be taken for granted that they won them fairly—Durham Herald.

One thing the people of North Carolina must learn—some of them have learned it but many have not—and that is that every reasonable encouragement must be given to the building of railroads. The Snow Hill Standard-Laconic, discussing the entry of the Norfolk Southern into Greene county, remarks on the fact that that system has just paid into the Greene county treasury as taxes a thousand dollars. There is less than ten miles of trackage. To be sure, the county voted a bond issue, but the incident shows that when a bond issue is voted a county quickly begins to get returns in taxes. Of course there is in addition the great increase in property values, the conveniences afforded by a railroad and the general desirability of adequate railroad service. The State needs more railroads in its business.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Unless Maj. Gen. Hughes, Canadian minister of militia and defense, is mistaken 200,000 men have gone to Canada from the United States to enlist for service under the British flag in the great war. If they are accepted and trained the United States will have when the war is over, a force of say, 160,000 veteran soldiers as a second reserve after the national guard is called out in event of trouble. If even 100,000 have offered to enlist in Canadian armies it is apparent that the war is calling upon the United States not only for money, food and clothing, horses and arms and ammunition, but also for men. This country has a big share in the war, although it is not a belligerent. However, it seems hardly likely that an army of Americans greater than the combined regular army and national guard of this country has gone to Canada to enlist.—Savannah News.

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn.—"I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies—Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."—Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HEALTH COMMITTEE'S HEARINGS CONCLUDED

Another Three and a Half Hour's Sitting.

Section 10 and 11 Gone Into as Final Stage of Inquiry Into Charges Filed by City Council—Visit to Office Today.

For another three hours and a half last night in the mayor's office at the City Hall, the special investigating committee inquiring into charges preferred by the city council against the county health board, gave ear to a mass of details and figures with respect to the economy and efficiency of the latter organization, adjourning at 11:30 o'clock, after completing all counts in the bill of particulars, to go for a personal inspection at 4 o'clock this afternoon to the health office at the Court House.

The committee will make up and announce later its findings upon the several charges preferred, Chairman J. Allan Taylor having stated last night that this would be laconic, devoid of personalities, and dealing solely with the facts adduced at the several hearings which have taken place during the past week or ten days.

Present at the hearing last night were Chairman J. A. Taylor, and Messrs. M. J. Corbett and H. M. Chase, of the committee; Drs. Cranmer, Nesbitt, Bolles, Mayor Moore and Mr. Catlett, of the Health Board; Councilmen Jones, Merritt, Loughlin, Chadwick and City Attorney Bryan, from the city council; Dr. John Thames, Mr. E. Piner, Dr. Carroll, Chemist Catlett and others of the health force; Commissioners Moore and McGirt; County Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, City Clerk Meares, Water Superintendent Merritt, Chief of Police Williams, Street Superintendent McAllister, Sanitary Superintendent Holton, and others of various city departments.

The charges were taken up with Section 10, wherein it was charged that the sanitary police were negligent and that there were repeated failures to give proper attention to premises needing attention in various parts of the city, a number of specific instances being pointed out and Supt. Holton having furnished additional complaints to those specified in the formal charges, which were published at the time of their filing.

Before entering into this complaint Mr. Robbins, of the Virginia Life Insurance Co., was present to testify with reference to the fee of $8 said to have been paid to one of the health physicians for services rendered by his company and which a Mr. Bell stated was Dr. Nesbitt at the hearing Tuesday; later having failed to identify Dr. Nesbitt. Mr. Robbins explained that the $8 had been paid to Dr. John Thames, assistant health officer, but inasmuch as this was on March 18th, 1913, and prior to the time that the assistant was employed for his whole time, the testimony was regarded as irrelevant.

In this connection Dr. Bolles explained his references at the former hearing as to insurance companies. He stated that he had reference only to the small sick benefit concerns that charge five and ten cents a week to irresponsible risks and that his remarks did not refer to the legitimate industrial companies at all.

Also before entering upon Section 10, County Attorney Peschau was present and made a statement as to the difficulty of prosecutions for health violations before the courts, this having been referred to at one of the former hearings. He told of the conciliatory methods now adopted with the public in regard to compliance with health regulations and said that Dr. Nesbitt agreed with him that much more had been accomplished by these means.

Superintendent Holton testified at length to the conditions as to sanitary inspections and of premises unattended for several months in some instances. These were answered in the formal answer of the Health Board, the sections being read by Dr. Nesbitt. The other charges were answered verbally and specifically by Dr. Nesbitt and Chief Sanitary Officer Piner. Superintendent of Streets McAllister also made a statement relative to a specific instance at or near the Willard bag factory. All these matters brought out general conditions and the Health Department's reply thereto, for the information of the committee.

City Clerk Meares presented an inventory of the property turned over to the county by the city when the health departments were consolidated and an inventory when the scavenging work was again taken over by the city. A discrepancy in a large number of sanitary cans was explained by the statement that many of them have been used owing to the approach of the summer and others had worn out. There was also investigation of the matter of disposal and the condition of the teams under the two administrations, the city council making its representations and the health department presenting its side of the case for the information of the committee.

The 11th section of the complaint was admittedly drawn by physicians and members of the council stated that in the absence of the physicians and the committee's inability to require their attendance, these could not be gone into technically. This section charged failure of the Board of Health to inform the public of the danger of its water supply on one or more occasions, charged that the board was not properly advertent to the importance of a mosquito campaign; complained at an unnecessary antagonism to the physicians of Wilmington and the inefficiency of the sanitary can requirement, also making charges against the superintendent, all of which have been published with the reply to the Board of Health thereto.

Mr. Jones explained that he understood that under the chairman's former ruling, in the absence of a medical expert on the committee, these witnesses would not be permitted and they were, therefore, not in attendance and City Attorney Bryan, conducting the investigation in behalf of council, explained that there was no law to require attendance of the physicians. Chairman Taylor ruled that the physicians could be heard as touching the comprehensive charge of inefficiency, etc., but there still existed some doubt as to the ability to get the physicians before the committee and the charges generally were summarized by Councilman Loughlin and replied to by reading the formal answer of the Board of Health as previously published.

Dr. Bolles in this connection gave credit to council for the sincerity of its purpose and said that the members had been influenced largely by the physicians. He asked that the charges be not withdrawn, but he and others insisted that they be heard. Prof. Catlett said unless the charges were gone into, there would be inuendos and insinuations right on and he favored clearing the slate once and for all. Chairman Taylor remarked very emphatically that if he had preferred a charge or instigated one, he would be on hand to substantiate it. However, the matter was passed over merely with the reading of a summary of the charges without the technicalities and Dr. Nesbitt read the Health Board's reply thereto.

At the conclusion of this phase of the controversy, City Attorney Bryan read to Dr. J. B. Cranmer a series of questions intending to show that before the adoption of the last budget, he with Dr. Bolles had proposed at a conference of the Health Board to reduce the budget by eliminating the assistant physician in the department, reducing the salary of the superintendent and cutting off some of the sanitary inspectors. Dr. Cranmer replied that he and Dr. Bolles, mindful of the charges of extravagance that had been made, had personally investigated conditions, had invited a conference of the board with Dr. Stiles and had submitted some figures along these lines, but that later he had seen that he was in error and that the figures had been withdrawn and he had voted for the whole appropriation. Eliminating the assistant was to make place for an expert on public health from one of the colleges as an assistant in the department.

His proposition, however, was not in the form of any resolution and was never presented or acted upon by the conference. Dr. Bolles, Mayor Moore, Prof. Catlett and others at the conference made similar statements as to what had occurred at the meeting.

Chairman Taylor and Messrs. Corbett and Chase went very thoroughly into this phase of the question as a possible justification for the council in holding out for a lower budget.

Dr. Nesbitt in conclusion was asked as to the duties of the sanitary engineer, explaining in detail his duties and stating that the sanitary engineer had been one of the most useful men in the service. He said that the city engineer could not be used for the reason that much of the work is outside the city in the county and the county has no engineer.

When all the allegations had been disposed of City Attorney Bryan very pointedly and satisfactorily presented the view of council and Dr. Nesbitt in reply stated at some length and feelingly his position with reference to the whole matter. Prof. Catlett, Superintendent McAllister and others on both sides of the controversy, took occasion to say that they believed that the results of the hearings would be to get all sides into closer harmony and that a better spirit of co-operation might be looked for in the future.

Chairman Taylor thanked the gentlemen on both sides for their attendance and their willingness to place all possible facts before the committee and gave the intimation as to the possible findings of the gentlemen associated with him, as detailed.

He then announced that the committee would visit the health offices this afternoon at 4 o'clock and invited members of the council and other interested parties, with physicians, to accompany the committee. The meeting then adjourned.

TO OPEN FREE CLINIC.

Dr. Carson and Dr. Allen, Osteopaths, Will Have Charge.

Announcement is made that the free clinic room which will be conducted under the supervision of Dr. M. J. Carson and Dr. L. C. Allen, osteopaths, will be opened in the Southern building tomorrow morning. The free clinics by these physicians will be conducted in room No. 412 of this building.

Dr. Carson will be in this room from 9 to 10 A. M. and 2 to 2:30 P. M. Dr. Allen will conduct free clinics from 2:30 P. M. to 3:30 P. M. The clinic room is near the office of Dr. Carson and in cases requiring it the expensive apparatus with which his office is equipped will be used.

The physicians in charge, who have so kindly and generously donated their services to relieve the suffering of the indigent poor, wish to express their warm appreciation for the assistance rendered them by the ministers as well as the general public in their support of this undertaking.

Transferred to Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. G. S. McDaniel, who has been chemist for the Swift Fertilizer Works, in Wilmington, for the last five or six years, has been transferred to Atlanta, Ga., and has already assumed his new duties with this concern. His transfer comes in the way of a promotion and his many friends in this city and elsewhere will be glad to learn of his success. He is succeeded in Wilmington by Mr. Blackman, who has already arrived.

CLUB SECRETARY ARRESTED

Mr. Jos. A. Price Alleged to Have Violated Prohibition Law—Gave Bond—Trial Today.

Mr. Jos. A. Price, a well known business man of Wilmington, who has been secretary of the Independent Club for some time, will be tried before the Recorder this morning on a charge of having violated the prohibition law. Mr. Price was arrested at the Court House yesterday by Sheriff Cowan and gave bond in the sum of $250, with Mr. J. J. Darby as surety.

The warrant under which Mr. Price submitted to arrest alleges that "Jos. A. Price did unlawfully and wilfully aid, assist and abet in keeping and maintaining a club room within said city of Wilmington, known as the Independent Club, wherein intoxicating liquors were received and kept for distribution among the members of said club or association of persons and others, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided, against the peace and dignity of the State."

The warrant was signed by Recorder John J. Furlong after an affidavit had been made by Deputy Sheriff H. Mack Godwin. It is said that there will probably be between 30 and 40 witnesses to be examined.

Sheriff Cowan and his deputies made a search of the quarters of the Independent Club Saturday night under the Search and Seizure act, but found no intoxicating liquors. Rumors continue to circulate on the streets, however, that members of the club had in some way gotten an intimation that the club was to be raided by the officers and that the stock of beverages on hand was secreted away. At the time the officers visited the club, they found it closed and had to wait until Mr. Price could be notified that they wished to search the place before they could gain admission, Mr. Price not being at the club at the time.

WHEN IS OFFICER MACK GODWIN NOT AN OFFICER

Momentous Question Now Before Wilmington Public.

Removed From Position As Deputy by Sheriff Cowan But Mayor Moore Stands Pat—Councilman Jones Cites Opinion.

The old and much-mooted question of "When is Officer Mack Godwin not an officer?" again dipped into the limelight in local municipal circles yesterday and for days to come this momentous question promises to engage the attention of the public pro and con.

The question was precipitated yesterday morning when Officer Godwin, serving both under Mayor Moore as a special officer of the city and under Sheriff Cowan as a deputy of the county, was removed from his position as a deputy by the sheriff, leaving Mr. Godwin shorn of his power except as a special officer of the city under the appointment of the mayor, and matters were still further complicated during the day when Councilman Jones, in charge of the department of public safety, even questioned this authority. Legal opinions pro and con have been brought in. Mayor Moore still holds that Mr. Godwin is an officer and Councilman Jones is equally positive that he is not. And there the matter stands to be threshed out in the public prints and before deliberative bodies of the city until Mr. Godwin's status is exactly defined.

Mr. Godwin issued a statement relative to his dismissal as a deputy sheriff yesterday morning in which he says when he went down to the court house yesterday morning Sheriff Cowan called him to one side and told him he would have to take his deputy sheriff's card away from him; that the people were talking about him working up evidence against the Independent Club while a deputy sheriff and that it was affecting the sheriff; he was sorry to have to take the card but under the circumstances he was compelled to do so, Mr. Godwin said. He also said the sheriff yesterday morning in which he says job and that another man had told him (the sheriff) that if he (Godwin) would quit doing this kind of work, he would also give him a job.

Later, Godwin said, at Front and Princess streets, the sheriff said Councilman Jones would give him a job if he would quit doing "this kind of work." Mr. Godwin further stated that his dismissal as a deputy does not in any way affect his position as special officer of the city, having been appointed some months ago as a special officer by Mayor Moore, having been sworn in by Mr. John J. Fowler and a badge having been given him by Capt. C. W. Woolard, night captain at the police station.

Sheriff Cowan, when asked about the withdrawal of Mr. Godwin's card, stated that the law gives him the right to appoint deputies and also the right to withdraw their cards whenever he feels disposed to do so, and he asks no one's permission to do so either; that his reason for asking for Mr. Godwin's card were that he had no control over him as a deputy; that he was subject to the orders of others than himself and that, being responsible for the official actions of his deputies, he felt it was incumbent on him to remove Mr. Godwin. Regarding Mr. Godwin's statement as to Mr. Jones, the sheriff said that having heard Mr. Godwin say he would leave the service if he could get anything else to do, he happened to mention the matter to a man who said he would be glad to assist Godwin in securing work as a matter of accommodation only.

Old Question Revived.

Sheriff Cowan having withdrawn the officer's card, Councilman Jones having been involved in the statement of the officer, took the position that Mr. Godwin is not now an officer of any kind, as he does not recognize the mayor's legal right to make an appointment of a special officer, reviving the old conflict of authority between the mayor and the department of the city government over which Mr. Jones presides. Mr. Jones, in support of his position, quotes a very full opinion by Mr. Eugene S. Martin, dean of the Wilmington bar, in which he holds that the mayor has no authority under the charter to make the appointment.

Mr. Jones furnishes The Star with a copy of his letter to Mr. Martin, expressing an earnest desire to settle the controversy once and for all, and the opinion of Mr. Martin in reply thereto. Requirements of space forbid the publication of only Mr. Martin's opinion, which covers the questions asked by Mr. Jones, the replies thereto and the general legal opinion as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 2, 1914.

"W. F. Jones, Esq., Councilman Public Safety, City.

"Dear Sir: Your favor of the 27th ult. to hand submitting to me the two following questions for my opinion in writing, to wit:

First. Has the mayor the power to appoint a special officer for general purposes, such officer being independent of the police department and receiving no compensation from the city?

Second. Which officer has the immediate executive control of the police force, the mayor or the councilman of public safety?

"I shall first consider question No. 1:

"It is well settled that a municipal corporation or an officer thereof has only such power or authority as is given by the charter or some general law applicable to the subject.

"Therefore, to answer the questions submitted, the charge of the city of Wilmington must be consulted as to the power of the mayor to appoint a special officer for general purposes.

"The charter of the city is contained in an act entitled, 'An act to amend the charter of the city of Wilmington,' being chapter 76 of the private laws of 1911, as amended by an act entitled, 'An act to amend the charter of the City of Wilmington,' being chapter 375 of the private laws of 1913.

"The act of 1911 established the commission form of government for the city of Wilmington and among other things provided that the city of Wilmington shall be governed by a council consisting of five members, one of whom shall be mayor (section 3); and that the executive and administrative powers, authority and duties shall be distributed into and among five departments, among which are the departments of public affairs and of public safety, and provides that the council shall determine the powers and duties to be performed by each department, etc. (Sec. 4).

"By subsection (a) of Sec. 5, it is

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Regular Monthly Meeting of Board of Commissioners Yesterday—Memorial to Capt Craig.

Regular monthly meeting of the board of commissioners of navigation and pilotage was held at the office of the chairman, with the following present: Chairman James Sprunt, Vice Chairman J. W. Harper, Commissioners H. G. Smallbones and William St. George, and Clerk John T. Rankin.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with, they having been published in the newspapers at the time and read by the commissioners.

Report of the monthly bar soundings committee was read and approved. The question of reinstatement of Pilot J. F. Arnold was again under discussion, and it was moved and seconded that the matter of Mr. Emple's appeal in behalf of Mr. Arnold be tabled until the next meeting to be held in December.

The chairman stated that the rules and regulations of the port of Wilmington had been made many years ago to conform to conditions which had changed in more recent years, and that these harbor and pilot rules needed revision; also there were many decisions and ordinances of the board which should be codified for ready reference. He had, therefore, requested the clerk and the harbor master to confer daily on this subject and submit to the board a revision of the regulations for its action.

The memorial committee appointed to give the expressions of the board with reference to the death of the late James William Craig, reported as follows:

"The life and labors of the late James William Craig, Cape Fear pilot, are worthy of honorable record because he exemplified in a high degree the finest characteristics of his profession, combining a sense of responsibility to God and to his fellow men.

"In early life he was trained to accurate knowledge in the details of his vocation by his father who was himself the trusted friend and pilot of Col. Lamb, who commanded Fort Fisher. His training began shortly before the outbreak of the Civil war, and his professional experience comprised some of the most stirring events of the famous blockade. His superior skill and bravery were recognized by such competent judges as Capt. Reid of the "Sumter" and the "Lynx" and by Capt. Maffitt of the "Lilian" and the "Owl," and his exploits under the command of those and other intrepid Confederates are among the most interesting episodes of the Cape Fear.

"Throughout the war he sustained the fine service and unswerving loyalty of the Cape Fear pilots to the cause of the South, and when he returned at its close to the peaceful but still dangerous duties of his calling, he dignified it by his recognition of a higher duty to the cause of Christianity of which he became an humble and effective exponent.

"We bear record that his private and public life was exemplary, that his professional skill was excellent, that his personal influence for good was always manifest, and that his example as a patriot, a pilot and a Christian gentleman is worthy of commendation. 'His Maker's image blessed his soul and glory crowned his head.'

"H. G. SMALLBONES,
"J. W. HARPER,
"WM. ST. GEORGE,
"Memorial Committee."

"Commissioner Harper drew the attention of the board to the rapid and continued erosion of Bald Head Point. In the meantime the board is more than ever impressed with the need of a bar jetty which has been frequently discussed.

The harbor master reported that work on the obstruction to navigation at Hilton Bridge is being pushed as speedily as possible, and it is hoped that the channel will be open for navigation by Saturday, the 7th of November.

The board desires to place on record its intention of applying to the next legislature for an amendment to the law providing for the appointment of two commissioners from Southport, to be changed to one commissioner from Southport and four from Wilmington, in consideration of the changed conditions under which the former law was enacted.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

JOHN T. RANKIN,
Clerk.

SUFFERED TWENTY-ONE YEARS ---FINALLY FOUND RELIEF

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE,
Rapides Par. Echo, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

MANY DONATIONS FOR THE SANTA CLAUS SHIP

The people of Wilmington seem greatly interested in the collection of Christmas presents which will be sent to New York from this city on Friday evening to be sent to Europe on the steamer Jason, which will sail on November 10. The ship will first go to England, thence to Germany, France and Belgium and the other European countries that are at war and a large collection of presents will be left at each port at which it touches.

A solid train load of things will be sent from Chicago and also from faraway California. All over the country the children are working to get together a collection of suitable presents for the orphan children of Europe. The school children of Wilmington are greatly interested in the movement and are working hard to get up a most creditable exhibition for Wilmington.

Those who wish to donate articles for this worthy purpose may send them to Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, No. 420 South Front street, or leave them at any of the school buildings.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING SOLEMNIZED LAST NIGHT.

Last evening at 8 o'clock a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Sellers, 720 Dock street, when their daughter, Miss Lavada Kate, became the bride of Mr. Benj. J. Mintz, of this city, the Rev. G. T. Adams officiating.

The parlor was beautifully decorated, the scheme being white and green, and adding to this, the soft light of many candles gave to the whole a scene of unique attractiveness.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin, which was very artistically rendered by Miss Rich.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a dark blue traveling suit and carried white carnations, while Miss Florence Galloway as maid of honor, with Mr. Griffin Nash Sellers as best man, was becomingly gowned in a black evening dress and carried pink carnations. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Canady. Mrs. Canady being attired, also, in a black evening gown.

The bride and groom are popular young people of this city and Brunswick county, their former home, and their friends both here and elsewhere will learn with much interest of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Mintz will leave this morning for a visit to the groom's old home in Brunswick county. They will return in about ten days and make their home in this city.

MISS ROSA MAY GRIMSLEY
BRIDE OF CAPT. E. E. MAYNARD

Of interest to a host of their friends in Wilmington and throughout this section of the State is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Rosa May Grimsley, of Councils, N. C., and Capt. E. E. Maynard, of Hamlet, N. C., the wedding having occurred at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Grimsley, No. 1010 North Fourth street, this city, the Rev. T. G. Vickers, pastor of Bladen Street M. E. church, officiating.

The bride had been visiting here for a week or more and the wedding had been planned as a pleasant surprise for home folks who were notified by telegraph after the ceremony of the happy event that had taken place. Capt. and Mrs. Maynard left on the afternoon Seaboard Air Line train for their future home at Hamlet, where the groom has been employed as a conductor for a number of years by the Seaboard Air Line.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Grimsley, of Councils, and was postmaster there for some time. She has a large circle of friends and admirers who will receive the announcement of her marriage with most pleasant interest.

WILMINGTON YOUNG LADY PARTICIPATES IN RESCUE

Wilmington friends of Miss Louisa Grant, of this city, who has been visiting in Greenville, N. C., will read with interest an account of her participation in a rescue near Tarboro a few days ago, the account appearing in the Greenville Reflector, as follows:

"A party of young people from this place report the burning of a colored man's home near Tarboro yesterday which happened just as they were passing while autoing. The party was composed by Misses Ethel Skinner, Rubelle Forbes, Louisa Grant and Messrs. J. B. Kittrell and M. H. Phillips. The fire was discovered before they reached the house and by the time they got to it the fire had gained considerable headway. They assisted in removing the household goods, practically all of which were saved, and rescued three small children, which were alone in the house at the time of the fire. The house was a three room tenant house, better than the average and is a complete loss. The fire started under the roof near the middle of the house and no cause for the fire could be found. It is pretty certain that the children would have been burned up had it not been for the prompt and timely assistance of the party. They were too small to save themselves and as the fire was making rapid headway they would have soon been beyond rescue."

D. A. R. STATE CONVENTION AT DURHAM HAS ADJOURNED.

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., Nov. 4.—The meetings of the annual State convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution came to a close this afternoon, and this evening from 9 to 12 o'clock, in the large parlors on the first floor of East Duke building, Trinity College, took place a very brilliant reception, given by the college in honor of the local chapter of the organization, the visiting delegates and their hosts, and specially invited guests. In brilliancy this social event of the week surpassed anything of its kind seen here recently, and was another example of the efforts of the college authorities to make the convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution as pleasant as possible.

A committee from the faculty, composed of Professors R. L. Flowers, Frank C. Brown and William H. Wannamaker, assisted by local decorators, had prepared the two large parlors in East Duke building, which was entirely given up during the two days of the convention. The parlor was exquisitely decorated with large collections of ferns, palms, flags, etc., and presented a most beautiful scene. Refreshments were furnished and served by Dughi, the famous Raleigh caterer. Two large punch bowls, under enormous American flags and surrounded by banks of ferns, furnished delicious punch to the 300 guests present. Mrs. Robert L. Flowers and Mrs. William H. Wannamaker presided over the punch bowl in the east parlor and Mrs. W. T. Laprade and Mrs. A. M. Gates over the one in the west parlor. The young women students of the college who reside in the woman's dormitory assisted in serving the guests.

Those in the receiving line were as follows: Representing the faculty, President and Mrs. Few; representing the board of trustees, Bishop and Mrs. John C. Kilgo and Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Duke; representing the college members of the local chapter of the organization, Dr. and Mrs. William K. Boyd; representing the committee on organization of the proposed co-ordinate college for women at Trinity, Miss Laura Drake Gill. Officers of the D. A. R. who were in the receiving line: Mrs. W. M. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. A. L. Smith, of Charlotte; Mrs. E. R. Overman, of Salisbury; Mrs. John F. Wiley, of Durham; Miss Cora Vail, of Taylorsville; Miss Cordelia Phifer, of Charlotte; Mrs. G. P. Erwin, of Morganton; Miss Jessie Rogers, of Waynesville. Special guests in the receiving line: Mrs. Charles W. Bassett, of Baltimore; Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Arkansas; Mrs. G. C. Little, of Wadesboro; Miss Eliza Denniston, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. J. Lindsay Patterson, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Edwin C. Gregory, of Salisbury; Mrs. Minnie Wriston Smith, of Charlotte; Mrs. B. D. Heath, of Charlotte.

DR. BRADFORD IMPROVED

Recovering From Operation For Appendicitis at Hospital Here.

Many friends throughout this section of the State will hear with pleasure that the condition of Dr. R. H. Bradford, of Burgaw, who is at the James Walker Memorial Hospital in this city, is very encouraging considering his recent operation for appendicitis and that peritonitis had developed. Every one wish for him a speedy recovery. He is having the very best of attention and all that medical skill can do is being done for him. Mrs. Bradford has been constantly with him and feels encouraged now at the almost certain prospect of his recovery.

THEATRICAL

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", Eugene Walter's splendid dramatization of John Fox Jr.'s popular novel of the same name, is one of the most convincing American plays ever staged.

The story in book form has been read by book lovers all over the world and its stage qualities have won for the author, and dramatist, big returns from the box office, which, after all, is the best register of the success and popularity of a play. Eugene Walter's conception of John Fox Jr.'s mountain story has been produced with the prodigality of stage charm. Exceptional pains have been taken to surround Eleanor Montell, who appears in the role of June, with a strong company of players. The play will be seen here today, matinee and night.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is a virile romance that in book form has been read by three millions and more of book lovers. Eugene Walter's dramatization is one that warms the blood and stirs the emotion. It is a story of romantic love with just a requisite tinge of the feudal spirit of the Virgina hills, to give it bubbling color. In the part of June the primitive, sweet, wild mountain maid, Miss Montell, has a role in which she will make a direct appeal to all, who have already met June in Mr. Fox's original story. The play is given a magnificent production and its long runs at the Boston Theatre, and the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, were marked by the largest receipts of late years.

One of the most capable casts ever seen outside of New York will appear here.

Five Reels Again—Bijou.

It's just another one of those famous penny-a-reel shows booked for the popular price photoplay house for today. Five rousing big reels of the newest movies, releases less than ten days out from the studios, which have only been shown in a few of the biggest cities before coming to the Bijou.

The bill is headed by that mammoth Rex two-reel feature, "Kid Regan's Hands," a picture that has excited much comment where it has already been seen. The terrible, terrifying "Kid Regan" was a young prize fighter, who has excellent heart and a desire for revenge upon a villain, but is deterred until after the big fight because "he must take care of his hands." Do you suppose you could refrain from striking the man who insulted the woman you loved, if you knew it would injure your chances for a successful future? Or do you think you would cast discretion to the winds and thrash the imposter? That's the proposition with which Kid Regan was confronted

Then there's a mammoth exceptionally interesting Mutual feature, entitled "Frenchy". This is a two-reel feature, and is a thrilling Western character comedy-drama with a novel ending that will appeal to every one. It is an adaptation from the story by that name written by George Pattulo, whom every one knows as a contributor to the leading magazines.

Then there's a notable Keystone comedy, "The Baggage Smasher" that will furnish a pleasing finale to this big bargainfest.

Victoria Thronged.

"Standing room only" was again at a premium yesterday when the Victoria gave one of its popular matinees, and the jam showed how popular this theatre has become of late with the ladies and children. The performance was big and greatly enjoyed, too. But as to that ever anon. Now for the new show, because the Victoria presents its regular mid-week change of menu today, and the new show is in every way the equal of the shows of the past fortnight, which were record breakers. In fact, the show opening at matinee this afternoon, to be followed by two performances tonight, is ahead of the others, as seemingly impossible as that may appear. Giving one an idea of the importance of the new show it is but necessary to mention that the show is headed by the famous Five Armenians. This is one of the biggest acts ever on the Keith Circuit and the biggest that has ever graced the vaudeville stage in Wilmington. It is also a decidedly costly act.

The Five Armenians will appear in a high class, magnificent musical spectacle. They will present, in superb manner, scenes from the great operas, including "Faust", and their fame as operatic singers is world-wide. It is an act of unusual excellence and one that every music-lover should behold, although it caters, in grandeur and sweetness, to every one. Yet this is not all the big things on today's show at the Victoria.

Big Frohman Success Grand Today.

Quite the biggest film yet offered by the Grand Theatre will be to the front today. It is a Paramount, of course, and is presented by the noted manager, Mr. Daniel Frohman. He is presenting to the Wilmington public the celebrated actress, Mme. Bertha Kalich, in her foremost dramatic triumph, "Martha of the Lowlands." As theatre-goers everywhere will recognize this is bound to be a big offering, both on account of Mme. Kalich, who is one of the leading actresses of the world, and the play itself, which was one of the great successes. Mme. Kalich plays the role of "Martha", the beggar child adopted by the wealthy land-owner, and she portrays this role with all the fire and magnetism of her soul, that has won for her a niche in the hall of fame. Her support is an all-star one, of course, because Daniel Frohman will have none other. The production itself is nothing short of magnificent, and every theatre-goer in Wilmington should be certain to witness the great film, which is in five big reels. It will be just the same as beholding Mme. Kalich in a Broadway house, where you have to give up $2 per seat. The Grand will offer the presentation at the smallest price ever charged for the film—10 cents for adults, but the same old 5 cents for children, afternoon and night.

LOCAL DOTS.

—License to marry was issued yesterday afternoon to Mr. James O. Flowers and Miss Mary Anne Bell Thompson, both of Wilmington.

—Mr. C. D. Gilbert, general commission merchant, No. 212 Market street, has the thanks of The Star for a very handsome calendar for the new year, 1915.

—Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, was among yesterday's visitors in the city and was stopping at the Orton.

EXONERATED OF CHARGE.

Mr. E. A. Sykes Found Not Guilty of Embezzlement.

Mr. E. A. Sykes, of Wilmington, who was arrested here Saturday on a warrant from Scotland county, charging him with embezzlement, went to Laurinburg Tuesday and after a trial before the Recorder, which lasted for the greater part of the day, was completely exonerated of the charges resting against him. He was represented by W. J. Bellamy, Esq., of this city.

The charge grew out of a business transaction in which Mr. Sykes purchased from one, B. H. Williams, a restaurant at Laurinburg. Accompanying Mr. Sykes to Laurinburg, besides his attorney, were his sister, Miss Carlotta Sykes, and Mr. Frank L. Cumber, the latter two being witnesses in the case.

Best Treatment for All Complexion Ills

I'll tell you my panacea for all complexion troubles. If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, if it be rough, chapped, blotchy, pimply, or freckled, there's nothing that will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. The wax literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, so gently, gradually, you experience no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, one so clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful, you look many years younger. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is smeared on like cold cream before retiring and removed mornings with warm water. The mercolized wax habit is a healthier and more economical one than the cosmetic habit.

If the skin be wrinkled or creased, bathe it daily in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This acts immediately, affecting even the deepest wrinkles.—Elsie Desmond, in Beauty's Mirror.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

WANTS DEPOSITS DISTRIBUTED

Councilman Wood Makes Protest in Council Meeting—Market Matter is Considered.

The distribution of the funds of the city of Wilmington among the local banks was discussed again at the weekly meeting of City Council yesterday morning, Councilman Wood entering a vigorous protest against the present distribution. The matter of securing places at the city market for the use of farmers having produce to sell was referred to a committee composed of Councilman Wood as chairman and Councilmen Loughlin and Chadwick. Other matters of a routine nature were considered.

Councilman Wood said that he had been informed by Mr. Grainger of the Murchison Bank that Council was violating the law in depositing the city funds among the different banks. He asked City Attorney Bryan to explain whether or not the law is being complied with. The latter read extracts from the city charter in which it is stated that the funds shall be distributed among the banks in proportion to their capital stock provided the banks shall furnish bond satisfactory to Council. Councilman Wood said that he understood that the matter would likely be brought before the grand jury and that he did not care to be indicted.

Councilman Loughlin explained that before the city would be liable for an indictment that the bank must tender security. Councilman Merritt said that he understood that the Murchison was willing to pay interest on time deposits. Councilman Chadwick stated that he was glad to hear this.

Messrs. W. B. Thorpe, D. H. Penton and J. L. Becton, representing the streets and wharves committee of the Chamber of Commerce, presented the recommendation of the joint conference of this committee with committees from the Housewives' League and North Carolina Sorosis and County Farm Demonstrator Herring with reference to the use of the interior and the north side of the city market for the sale of produce by the farmers.

Mr. Becton submitted a sketch of the building showing the space that the committee considered could be used for the installation of benches on which the farmers could place their produce. It was the opinion of Council that it would be best now not to use the interior of the market house for the benches, as it would prove to be an inconvenience to the present occupants unless the building was remodeled to some extent. It was considered a feasible proposition, however, to use the space on the north side of the building as the fish benches now occupying this space are to be moved to the rear of the building soon.

It was considered to be unfair to the present occupants to rent the unoccupied space of the interior to farmers at a nominal rental while those who have already leased space have to pay a high price. It was suggested that probably the interior space could be rented and on account of the increased revenue the rental of all decreased to some extent. Mr. Greene Fenley, of J. J. Hopkins Sons & Co., said that the market men would have no objection to the farmers occupying the northern side of the building but he thought that a charge should be made. It was finally decided to refer the entire matter to a committee. Mayor Moore named Councilmen Wood, Chadwick and Loughlin as members of the committee.

Mr. J. A. Springer appeared before the board to ask that a broken water pipe at the foot of Chesnut street be repaired. He had reported the matter to several of the departments, he said, but had not secured any relief. He said that the water had overflowed in that vicinity for several weeks and that something would have to be done. The water and sewerage department has been working on the problem, but has as yet been unable to locate the source of the trouble.

Mr. John R. Hanby requested Council to improve Eighth street from Dock to Orange and the matter was referred to Councilman Merritt for attention.

Mr. H. W. Konig was before Council with reference to paying for the paving on North Fourth street. He said that there were seven of the property owners but that only two could pay in full and that the others desired to pay a part now and give their notes for the remainder, these notes to be at 6 per cent interest. He thought that it would probably take as long as nine months for some to pay all. His request was granted.

It was ordered that Mr. J. H. Strauss be paid $100 to reimburse him for tearing away his porch on South Second street, which projects over the sidewalk. The clerk was directed to make an entry on the minutes that this action is not to establish a precedent for the future, the action being taken on the present occasion because of special considerations.

Councilman Jones submitted a report from Fire Chief Schnibben relative to a collision of two motor trucks at Fourth and Harnett streets on October 27th. The report stated that the collision was due to the carelessness of Fireman J. L. Croom, who was driving the rear machine, which smashed into the one ahead, in that he was too close behind and did not have his car under proper control. Fireman Croom stated at the time the accident occurred that he ran into a pile of brick, throwing the wheels into the car trucks, thus making it impossible for him to control the car properly and also that there was considerable dust ahead which obscured his view. In view of his splendid record during the six years that he has been with the department, Council decided that no punishment would be imposed at this time.

Mayor Moore announced that he had appointed Mr. Geo. P. Galvin, general manager of the Carolina Metal Products Company, as delegate to represent Wilmington at the American Road Congress which meets in Atlanta, Ga., November 9th and 10th.

Mayor Moore requested that he be given leave of absence to attend the annual meeting of American Mayors, which will be held in Philadelphia at an early date and Council readily granted him this permission.

Messrs. W. E. Perdew and B. C. Moore were re-elected as members of the board of directors of the Red Cross Sanitarium for a term of three years.

A letter from Mayor McNeill, of Fayetteville, was read in which he spoke in the highest terms of the splendid work done by Plainclothesman Leon George during the week of the Cape Fear Fair and also mentioned the great pleasure that the writer had in meeting there Councilman Jones and Chief of Police Williams.

In reply to a question from Councilman Jones as to what had become of the appropriation of $800 which was made six months ago to fix the deep wells in the First Ward, Councilman Loughlin stated that two of the wells would have to be replaced with new ones and that on account of the rush of work in his department he had been unable to get to it but that it was hoped to begin work by December 1st.

Councilman Merritt reported that the Fourth street improvement will soon be completed. Councilman Wood reported that after conferring with Fire Chief Schnibben he had decided not to build a shed at the Fourth street market.

A number of other matters pertaining to the routine work of the different departments were taken up.

Councilman Merritt, in charge of the department of streets and wharves, submitted to council the October report of Mr. John Cc McAllister, superintendent of streets. The report follows:

"Mr. B. A. Merritt, Councilman:

"Dear Sir: I beg to report the following work done for the month of October.

"Cleaned all improved streets and alleys weekly.

"Graded and built clay gravel street on Bladen, from Fifth to Seventh; east side of Third, from Hanover to Brunswick; Eighth street, Nixon to Taylor; McRae, from Red Cross to Grace; Chestnut, from Third to Fifth, also intersection of Fourth and Chestnut.

WHEN IS OFFICER MACK GODWIN NOT AN OFFICER

provided that 'The mayor shall be the councilman in charge of the department of public affairs. He shall have and exercise all powers and perform all duties provided or prescribed by law or the ordinances of the city not in conflict with the provisions of this act. He shall have general supervision and oversight over all departments and offices in the city. He shall be the chief executive officer and representative of the city,' etc.

"By subsection (c) 'The councilman assigned to the department of public safety shall have charge of the chief of police and the police department and all policemen, officers and employes therein,' etc.

"Subsection (f) 'The council shall elect the clerk and treasurer and all other officers necessary to the proper and efficient conduct of the affairs of the city, and by section 6 the council shall have power to create, fill and discontinue offices and employments other than herein prescribed,' etc. and (Sec. 13) 'Every other officer, assistant and employe shall receive such salary or compensation as the council shall by ordinance prescribe.'

"From these citations from the charter, it will be perceived that the council alone, not the mayor, or any councilman, has power to appoint or employ any one for the city.

"And though subsection (a) provides that the mayor shall have general supervision and oversight over all departments and offices in the city, it does not say or mean control of such departments, as they are in charge of the councilman assigned thereto, and the mayor has no right to interfere directly or indirectly therewith. If, in his supervision or oversight of any department, he sees anything going wrong, it is his duty to report the same to the council for its action.

"But the act of 1911 was amended by the act of 1913 as follows: It repealed so much of chapter 75 private laws of 1911 as provided that the councilman receiving the greatest number of votes shall be mayor; provided that the city shall be governed by a council of five, as prescribed by said chapter 75, and a mayor to be elected, as in the act of 1913 provided—who shall preside at all meetings of the council, but shall have no vote except in case of a tie.

"Sec. 7, provides that 'The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city of Wilmington; shall do and perform all duties provided or prescribed by law or the ordinances of the city not expressly delegated to any other person; shall be ex-officio chairman of all departments; have general supervision and oversight over the departments and officers of the city government and shall report to the council any failure on the part of the officers of his, or any other department, to perform their duties. He may suspend any officer or employe who may appeal to the council, etc. By the amendment, the mayor has no department.

"Sec. 9 repeals so much of the act of 1911 as creates departments, but provides that it shall be the duty of the council to determine what duties shall be performed by the mayor, other than those herein prescribed, and any member of the council, etc. And the council has so provided, and they are the same as prescribed by the act of 1911; and the councilman assigned to each department has sole and entire charge of the same as heretofore under the act of 1911.

"I see nothing in the said amendment that gives the mayor power to appoint any officer or employe in any department of the city government or to interfere threwith, but merely the duty to report to council any failure on the part of the officers for its action.

"Besides Sec. 434 of the revised ordinances (page 174) provides: The police organization of the city of Wilmington shall consist of a chief of police, a captain of police and such sergeants and policemen as it now includes, or such as the council may from time to time determine and such special policemen as the councilman of public safety may appoint for special purposes.'

"Thus it will be perceived that the power of appointment of a special policeman resides in the councilman of public safety alone and not in the mayor.

"I am therefore of the opinion that the mayor has not the power to appoint a special officer for general purposes; such officer being independent of the police department and receiving no compensation from the city.

"In answer to question 2:

"For the same reason I am of opinion that the councilman of public safety has the immediate executive control of the police force—and that the mayor has no control of the same whatever. All he can do is to report to the council any failure to perform the duties thereof on the part of any officer or employe of said department.

"And this must necessarily be so or the councilman in charge of said department would never know the condition of his department for which he is responsible.

"I also think that Sec. 935 of the revisal has no application, as the mayor has no judicial functions to perform.

"Permit me to suggest, however, that the city attorney is the legal adviser of the council and his opinion should pervail.

"Yours truly,
"E. S. MARTIN."

ELECTION BOARD MEETS AT 11 A. M. TODAY

Official Returns From Tuesday's Election Will Be Received.

For the purpose of receiving the official returns from Tuesday's election in New Hanover county, the board of canvassers will meet at the court house this morning at 11 o'clock, instead of at noon as was first reported. Official returns from all the precincts of the county will be received at this time.

As stated in yesterday's Star, the vote cast in New Hanover was very light, being less than half the normal vote. The general apathy and lack of interest in the election was not exceptionable being general throughout the State. The constitutional amendments carried by over 500 majority.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma Kept Her Locks Dark, Glossy and Thick With a Simple Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY.

Samose Will Make You Plump and Rosy, Says J. Hicks Bunting.

If you are getting thin, you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

Try then to be healthy and plump; it is not difficult if you know how.

The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh-forming food and tissue builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that all the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

Fatness, happiness and health they all go together. How seldom you see a fat person who is not happy. On the other hand, thin people are unhappy and nervous. Use Samose and be well and fat and happy.

Gossip From Washington

SENATOR M'CUMBER of North Dakota tells a good joke on Little Elk, an Indian preacher, who was taking temporarily the place of a minister who was away on account of illness. The marshal of the county met Little Elk and asked him to whom the salary was given. The Indian replied that it went to the sick preacher and that he got only the collections of the meetings at which he presided.

"What was your collection last Sunday, Little Elk?" asked the marshal.

"Eighty-five cents in all," replied the Indian.

"Well, I think that is poor pay," returned the marshal.

"Yes," replied Little Elk, "but is poor preach!"

Reference was made to precocious youngsters at a recent dinner when Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana was reminded of a boy who came under that head. The boy, the senator said, lived in a happy home, together with his father, mother and a sister of twenty or so.

SENATOR RANSDELL.

One evening a veteran of the civil war was a guest at the house, and after dinner the family listened to a recital of the veteran's adventures.

"It was no picnic, I assure you," continued the veteran. "In all I was engaged five times, and"—

"That was nothin'!" Willie interjected.

"Why, Willie!" corrected the boy's mother. "What do you mean?"

"I mean that five ain't so many," was the rejoinder. "Sister Gladys has been engaged nine times."

When Representative Kahn of California was a young man he delved into theatricals occasionally and was frequently urged to join with rising young amateur authors in the preparation of their efforts.

One day Kahn and an author were sitting together while they beheld the performers stumbling through the author's latest effort.

"Never mind," said Kahn; "they haven't changed the show, the way professionals do." "Oh, yes, they have!" replied the author moodily. "I wrote it for a comedy, and they've turned it into a tragedy."

"A member of congress," said Representative Herman A. Metz of New York, "has to be pretty careful how he chooses his words," and then Mr. Metz recited this story:

"Mrs. Flareup is so angry she won't speak to me," said Mabel to Ethel.

"Really!" exclaimed Ethel. "And what is she angry about?"

"I haven't the slightest idea," said Mabel. "We met a couple of days ago, and we were talking as friendly as possible when suddenly"—

"What were you talking about?" inquired Ethel.

"Why, nothing in particular," explained Mabel; "just the ordinary small talk. I remember she said, 'I always kiss my husband three or four times every day.'"

"And what did you say?" asked Ethel.

"Why, I said," replied the other, "'I know at least a dozen girls who do the same,' and then she nearly had a fit."

"In the southern part of Arkansas," says Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina, "where the people take life easy, a man and his wife were sitting on the porch when a funeral procession passed the house. The man was comfortably seated in a chair and was whittling a piece of wood. As the procession proceeded he observed:

"'I reckon ol' man Williams has got about the biggest funeral that's ever been held around hyer, Caroline.'

"'A purty good sized one, is it, Bud?' queried the wife, sitting still.

"'You betcher!' Bud answered.

"'I certainly would like to see it,' said the woman. 'What a pity I ain't facin' that way!'"

Animal Lays Eggs.

And what do you think of an animal which lays eggs? Yes, there is one—the duck billed platypus—and it lives in Australia. It is at home both in the water and on land. Its body, which is about eighteen inches in length, is covered with soft fur; it has broadly webbed feet, a short tail and a depressed, toothless, ducklike bill. Insects, crustaceans and mollusks are its favorite articles of food. But the queerest thing about it is of course the fact that it lays eggs.

HAIR TONIC.

Special Comb to Facilitate Its Application to the Scalp.

There is nothing more trying than a leaky bottle in a traveling bag and no more trying experience than that of rubbing hair tonic into the scalp when the train lurches merrily and scatters tonic in every direction. To help out the traveler who uses it there is a tonic comb worked with a suction bulb.

It looks like a coarse, curved comb of nickel, but each tooth is hollow and connected with the rubber bulb in the handle. The comb is run through the hair close to the scalp and the bulb pressed at intervals, sending the tonic to the roots of the hair in a fine spray.

The bulb is filled by dipping the points of the comb in a bowl of the tonic until the former is full. It is then packed in a strong box and cannot give forth any tonic unless the bulb is pressed. When the bulb is "charged" its contents should last for a three day journey.

Use a Scale.

Buy a scale if you have none. It will pay for itself in a few months. A few reports of short weights from your kitchen mean a reform in the grocery or market, as even unscrupulous tradesmen do not want a reputation for dishonesty.

FANCY WAISTCOATS.

They Make Smart Additions to the Tailored Street Suit.

Waistcoats made of a narrow striped pique are smart additions to the serge or gabardine street suit. They are often embroidered in white cotton, sometimes scalloped about the edges.

One of the smartest, however, is made without embroidery. The edges are bound with white braid. The waistcoat buttons high in the neck and down to the waist with big white crochet buttons. Two patch pockets, bound with the braid, finish it.

Embroidered eponge waistcoats are very effective, especially with white coat suits. The embroidery is done in colors that would have been called Bulgarian a year or two ago—in big, irregular designs. These waistcoats usually are made to button just above the waist, and, like those of pique, they carry patch pockets.

Cleaning Tubs.

It is said rust spots on bathtubs and basins and discolorations in toilet basins and sinks may be removed by applying muriatic acid with a mop. As soon as the discoloration is removed the acid should be thoroughly rinsed off with clear water. The acid works like magic; it is almost instantaneous in its effect and the labor of scrubbing is saved.

Living Room With Heavy Details of Finish.

STONE FIREPLACE.

THE fireplace of cut stone, whose spacious depths hold a good sized log, forms a conspicuous feature of the living room illustrated here. The finish and furnishings of the apartment are along the line of extreme simplicity; otherwise they would not be harmonious.

An Old Favorite

Bonnie Lesley

O SAW ye bonnie Lesley
As she gaed o'er the border?
She's gane, like Alexander,
To spread her conquests farther.

To see her is to love her,
And love but her forever,
For nature made her what she is
And never made anither!

Thou art a queen, fair Lesley;
Thy subjects we, before thee.
Thou art divine, fair Lesley,
The hearts o' men adore thee.

The deil he couldna scaith thee
Or aught that wad belang thee.
He'd look into thy bonnie face
And say, "I canna wrang thee."

The powers aboon will tent thee.
Misfortune sha'na steer thee.
Thou'rt like themselves sae lovely
That ill they'll ne'er let near thee.

Return again, fair Lesley;
Return to Caledonie,
That we may brag we hae a lass
There's nane again sae bonnie.
—Robert Burns.

Conserving Strength.

It is the endless round of imagined duties that most often causes the chronic overwork among women, says the Farm Journal. There is nothing to be dreaded like a thoroughly exhausted woman. No amount of personal gratification ever compensates for such a state of affairs. No constantly tired woman is capable of generous sympathy and ready help and companionship. Therefore, keep rested up. Even a brief nap in the afternoon may be sufficient.

Tennis Shoes.

One of the most attractive shoes for tennis is made of white buckskin and tan leather combined. The tan is used at the toes and heels and sometimes it is introduced in the way of straps for decoration through the center of the shoe. But the toe and heel arrangement of tan leather takes much of the soil that would otherwise fall on the defenseless buckskin, and so the shoes are little trouble to keep clean.

DASHING NEW CAPE.

The military cape illustrated here was fashioned of fine white broadcloth. The garment was somewhat open in front, with a vest effect suggested by crossed bands of the material. The turned over collar was faced with black velvet. Capes promise to retain their vogue for some time.

PORCH PILLOWS.

Several things are to be remembered concerning the colors and materials which appear on the cushions of the out of door living room, into which the American veranda has developed these last few years.

In selecting its cushions it cannot be treated like an ordinary room, as the brilliant light has to be considered. The adjoining lawn or garden, with its flower beds and shrubs, is seen in connection with the porch, so the two must be planned together.

Some persons before fitting out a porch completely with cushions test samples of the cloth to see if they will stand sunlight and water. One should never use handsome embroidered or silk pillows on the porch. Comfort, not elaborateness, should be the aim.

The covers if possible should be uniform in material and color, with perhaps one or two carefully chosen contrasting shades to avoid any chance of monotony. If the materials are washable two sets of removable covers are made for convenience in laundering.

If a porch happens to be fitted in brown wicker furniture covers of Holland linen, with a monogram in a darker brown, is a good choice for both chairs and settee. Dark blue linen, marked in white or a darker shade of blue, makes decidedly smart covers for the porch which has the natural colored wicker furniture and blue and white jute rugs.

Some very successful coverings have been made from materials borrowed from the kitchen, such as crash toweling in blue and red squares, and what is called German dishcloth, of heavy hand woven cotton, creamy in color. This peasant cloth when trimmed with an equally foreign looking red and blue cotton fringe is effective.

Some house furnishers provide the porch seats with cushions covered with flowered cretonnes and serviceable chintzes, which are always attractive if there happens to be no adjacent garden of gay colorings, but merely a velvety green lawn.

Cushions that are supposed to be for real comfort on the veranda couch swing should not be of rough, scratchy material, but of some smooth goods, pleasant for the face to rest against.

ABOUT CLOTHES.

A convenience for the laundress is to put the heavy clothes basket full of wet clothes on the children's wagon and pull it close to the clothesline.

Boil hooks and eyes in strong soda water before sewing them on garments. It will prevent their rusting in the wash.

When marking linen first write the name in black lead pencil, then go over the pencil with marking ink. You will find that the pencil prevents the ink from spreading and looking unsightly, as is so often the case. Always use a new pen point.

In summer do not leave the clothes out on the line after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, as from that time until dark all sorts of insects are hunting for lodging places for the night.

When a serge dress looks shiny sponge it with hot vinegar and press it in the usual way.

Buy the same kind of pearl buttons for all the children's wash dresses. Thus you will keep a supply on hand, and if one is lost there is no annoyance caused by hunting through a bag for one to match.

Invisible Fastenings.

A good way to fasten hooks and eyes in the placket of a dress of sheer material so that the stitches will not show through is to sew them first on a piece of straight material.

Then sew this piece to the placket, being careful to take the stitches through the placket facing only.

If an invisible closing is desired on a waist or dress the same method may be employed, using rustproof snaps, which are more desirable than hooks and eyes.

The Popular Sweater.

The sweater of this season is no woolly, clinging garment, made of white and colored worsted. It is made in various thin, silky fabrics—there is one now used that looks like crape—and it hangs loosely below the waist. Sometimes it is made with cutaway front. The sleeves are snug about the wrists, but the collors turn back comfortably from the neck.

Successful Packing.

The secret of successful packing is to fold smoothly and pack closely. It is jostling that rumples and ruins clothes and smashes breakables. A good supply of tissue paper is one of the requisites for packing, for wrapping boots and shoes, etc., and for laying between the folds of thin dresses and blouses.

The Resourceful Knight.

The Fair Lady—Ah, my brave one! It is so tiresome to stand and, behold, there is no place to sit.

The Knightly Lover—What's the matter with this?

Tough One.

Old Scotchwoman—The last steak I got frae ye I could hae soled ma boot wi' it.

Butcher—And why did ye no dae it?

Woman—So I wud if I could hae got the pegs tae gang through it.

Forgot Mother.

Johnny—You're the meanest, hatefulest, spitefulest thing I know.

Tommy—And you're the crabbedest, ugliest—

Father—Boys, boys! You forget that your mother is in the room.

Appearances.

"Bliggins is doing his best to appear youthful."

"Dyes his mustaches and wears a toupee?"

"No. Puts on outing clothes and tries to look like a boy scout."

Going Fast.

The steamer rolled and pitched in the mountainous waves, and Algy was very seasick.

"Deah boy," he groaned, "promise me you will send my remains to my people."

An hour passed.

"Deah boy," feebly moaned Algy, "you needn't bother about sending my remains home. There won't be any."

No Doubt.

"Ah," sighed the boarder who was given to rhapsodies as they sat down to the Sunday dinner, "if we could only have one of those turkeys that we used to raise on the farm in my boyhood!"

"Oh, well," said the pessimistic boarder, "perhaps it is one. You never can tell."

MERRY THOUGHTS OF THE LIGHTHEARTED

Today's Short Story

The Whaler's Daughter

CAPTAIN JACOB TARR, bound from Marthas Vineyard to the south Pacific ocean on a whaling voyage, having recently lost his wife, resolved to take their only child, a daughter barely seventeen years old, with him in his ship Harpoon. Irene Tarr was a lovely girl in face, figure and disposition. Her father adored her.

Captain Tarr had spent all his sailor life whaling on the Atlantic ocean, but now that the stock of whales was running low there he was obliged to turn his attention to a field with which he was not familiar. In looking about for a man who had had experience there he hit upon Frank Bristol, a young fellow who had gone out before the mast six years before and made two voyages on the Pacific. Since he was but twenty, the captain gave him no higher berth than third mate, but he was the only officer aboard the Harpoon that had had any considerable experience in the Pacific ocean.

There is love that comes from long association and love that comes with a single glance of eyes. The latter was the case with Frank Bristol and Irene Tarr.

Meanwhile Captain Tarr walked the quarter deck oblivious to the fact that a sailor without a cent and with only a common school education had won his daughter, on whom every advantage had been lavished and who would inherit $100,000 he had accumulated.

Captain Tarr was thus far well pleased with his voyage. He had on board a goodly supply of whale oil, and one feature he had somewhat dreaded—his inexperience as to wind and weather in the Pacific—had not troubled him at all.

"Talk about winds in particular waters," he said after being out a couple of months. "My opinion is that a man who has learned to sail a ship in one ocean should know how to sail her in any ocean. I find no difficulty here."

That same evening Frank Bristol had the watch while Captain Tarr was pacing the deck. Suddenly the captain was surprised to hear Bristol give the order:

"Man the weather braces!"

"What do you mean by giving such an order as that, Mr. Bristol? Have you lost your senses?"

"Wind coming," was the laconic reply.

The captain walked to leeward and, leaning over the rail, scanned the sea and the sky from east to west.

"There's no change coming that I can see. Drop the braces, men."

"Hold the braces, I say," said Bristol, with all the firmness of an admiral of the navy.

"Is this mutiny?" roared the captain.

The men, overawed by the superior authority of the captain, let go the braces, or, rather, they were about to do so when Bristol cried out defiantly:

"Don't a man of you drop a rope for an instant as you value your lives!"

He had scarcely spoken the words when there was a sudden drop in the wind. The sails hung listless, only flapping as the vessel rolled. At the moment Irene came on deck. Her coming was fortunate, for her father was flustered with the insubordination of his mate and puzzled at the dropping of the wind.

"Haul! Haul taut! Every man haul!" cried Bristol.

The yards swung around to meet a wind that must come out of the opposite quarter to the one from which it had been blowing. They were no sooner in position than the water darkened, the disturbance coming with lightning speed, and a mighty wind struck the ship. The Harpoon shuddered, bent over to the leeward till the tip ends of the yards almost touched the water, then with a bound leaped forward.

Irene Tarr was blown into her father's arms, and he took her down into the cabin. When he returned the worst was over, and the ship was scudding along safe and sound. The captain stood on the quarter deck and called for Bristol to come aft. The men watched the mate, wondering what reception he would receive. They could not hear what was said, but they saw the captain grasp the mate's hand with evident satisfaction and gratitude. This was what was said:

"Young man, if that wind had struck us without the sails being shifted she would have gone over and never righted. I owe our lives to you, including my daughter's, whom I value more than ship, cargo and crew. Now, my boy, what can I do for you?"

"I want what you value most—your daughter."

The captain was struck flat aback and staggered for a moment under the blow. He neither granted nor denied the request then, but the time came when Bristol, aided by Irene, secured the coveted reward.

Members of the New York Cotton Exchange Agree to Ballot on Liquidation of Straddle Account.

New York, Nov. 4.—Members of the cotton exchange at a meeting here today agreed to ballot for the liquidation of straddle accounts down to 7.51 cents for December contracts. Not long ago local traders refused to consider a lower price than 8 cents for December as a basis for liquidation, but Liverpool has marked the price of January-February down to 4.25d and today's action was considered an offer to compromise recent disputes.

It was rumored that December contracts were selling on the curb here at 7.52 to 7.55 and local traders believe prevailing trade conditions no longer warrant the difference of 150 points between Liverpool and New York as fixed by the international conference toward the week of last summer.

Otherwise there was no fresh development in the contract situation.

The news fro mthe South indicated steady spot prices which were generally 1-16 to 1-8 higher. Exports for the day were only 1,734 bales and some apprehend that the advance in war requirements may again check business, but cotton is now moving on very near a normal scale. Offerings from Texas are fully a cent higher than they were two weeks ago. Today's port receipts were 65,502 bales. Stock at all United States ports 803,340 bales. Interior receipts 46,787 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Market Quiet With Less Business All Around—Spots Stood Unchanged.

New Orleans, Nov. 4.—The cotton market was quiet today with less business all around. Spots stood unchanged at 7 3-16 for middling. Some disappointment was expressed at the falling off in the export movement, but the spot sales of 21,300 bales in the Liverpool market called forth much bullish comment.

Interest was drawn from the market itself by the dispute over the matter of commissions. One element among the brokers wants commissions on outside business increased to $20 for each 100 bale and on member's business to $10, while another element wants them to remain at $15 and $7.50. Today's discussion resulted in a called meeting of the brokers for next Tuesday. Sales on the spot 215 bales, to arrive 1,200 bales.

ELECTION EFFECTS UNKNOWN

Had Stock Market Been Open Big Advance Would Have Been Expected—Cross-Water Rates.

New York, Nov. 4.—Wall Street temporarily abandoned its interest in international affairs today to consider the outcome of the elections. With the stock market still under closure, there was no way of measuring the significance of the overturn in terms of security values, but conservative opinion inclined to the belief that under normal conditions the market would have responded with a vigorous upturn of prices.

On the other hand, it was regarded as debatable whether under these political conditions would not have been largely neutralized by the latest victories of the German navy. These were accompanied by another sharp rise in trans-Atlantic rates, while war risks on ships plying between North and South American ports were virtually prohibitive, according to reports.

Expiration of the British moratorium was without appreciable effect either in London or here. The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany, which showed an increase of $150,000,-000 in gold reserves in the three months of war, reflected the large payments made in connection with the war loan.

Foreign exchange was firm, cables being quoted at 4.91 1-4 and sight drafts at 4.90 1-2. More German cotton mills were in the market at rather unchanged prices from the early week.

Latest developments in the steel industry pointed to a general wage reduction at the beginning of 1915. Evidence of the continued improvement in the investment market was furnished by an advance in the prices of short term notes.

Retirement of emergency currency on a fairly large scale here and at other reserve centers testified to the increasing strength of the domestic monetary situation which was supplemented by easier rates for practically all loan accommodations.

Railway returns for September offered infallible proof of backward trade conditions, transportation companies in the Northwest and South showing net losses.

FIRE LOSSES WILL NOT EXCEED $15,000

Member of Firm of Sawyer Sons and Company Makes Statement.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Nov. 4.—A. Sawyer, senior member of the firm of A. Sawyer, Sons & Co., of Belcross, states that he lost $10,000 individually and the company lost $5,000 in the fire which destroyed their mill plant, 40 bales of cotton and 100 tons of cotton seed last Saturday afternoon, making a total loss of $15,000.

Mr. Sawyer is anxious that the correct amount of the losses should be stated as an exaggerated statement might have the tendency to injure the business of the company.

COULDN'T GET WORK; ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Young Electrician at Wilson Takes Poison to End His Life.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 4.—W. S. Crabtree, a young man formerly employed as an electrician, attempted suicide this morning by taking poison. The young man was despondent because of inability to secure work.

He came here from Raleigh two months ago, and lived with his sister on Green street. After the physicians saved him today, Crabtree stated that the cause of his depression was the hard times.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

By virtue of the power of sale vested in me, as contained in a deed of trust from Roland A. Wright and wife, Daisy T. Wright, of date November 26th, 1912, and duly recorded in Book 70, at page 52, of the Records of New Hanover County, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder, for cash, at the Court House door, in Wilmington, N. C., on Monday, the 30th day of November, A. D. 1914, the following described perperty, to-wit:

"Beginning in the western line of Nutt street at a point 198 feet northwardly from the northern line of Grace street, running thence southwardly along the western line of Nutt street 22.55 feet to the line of a lot now owned by Roland A. Wright; thence westwardly and parallel with Grace street 122 feet; thence northwardly and parallel with Nutt street 22.55 feet; thence eastwardly and parallel with Grace street 122 feet to the point of beginning, in the western line of Nutt street, the same being a part of Lot No. 3, in block 202, according to the present official plan of the city of Wilmington.

The terms of sale are for cash upon delivery of deed, which is to be made immediately after said sale. This sale being made at the request of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, beneficiary of said trust.

GEO. A. GRIMSLEY, Trustee.

CRAIG APPEALS FOR RELIEF OF BELGIANS

In Response to Cablegram From Herbert Hoover

Shipload of Food from North Carolina Would be a God-Send to Homeless and Famishing Women and Children.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 4.—Governor Craig issued today an appeal to North Carolinans to contribute to the relief of the many thousands homeless and starving women and children in Belgium whose husbands and fathers have been killed in battle.

The appeal is in response to a cablegram received from Herbert Hoover, London, chairman of the relief commission, which informed the Governor that one or more ship loads of food stuffs from North Carolina would be a God-send in the present dire distress.

The Governor urges, after reciting the terrible conditions in Belgium, that every North Carolinian answer this appeal as his sense of Christian sympathy and benevolence may dictate and adds:

"I have appointed Dr. S. Westray Battle, of Asheville, as chairman of the committee of mercy for North Carolina and all contributions and communications may be addressed to him."

FATE OF AMENDMENTS NOT AT ALL CERTAIN

decreased slightly when the official returns are made here tomorrow.

Benton was a candidate for the Democratic nomination in May last, but was defeated by Mr. Williamson and ran on the independent ticket in the general election yesterday. Benton's election, if confirmed, will be a surprise to the Democrats of this county and will be the first time in the annals of county politics that a party "bolter" has been elected against the party nominee.

Due to the new primary law that Columbus has, every candidate in the May primary signed the required pledge in which was embodied in a most emphatic manner the agreement to abide by the results of the primary which declared J. R. Williamson the nominee and this phase of the local situation is a matter of stern conjecture in the county generally. Benton has always been an ardent Democrat and "bolted" this time on account of the building of the new court house in this county, now well under way, and his opposition to the erection of the new edifice constituted the main plank in his independent platform.

The returning board will meet here tomorrow at 11 o'clock and from all indications will hold a long and stormy session.

SURPRISES IN DUPLIN

Democratic Majorities Greatly Reduced. Amendments Still in Doubt.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 4.—The election yesterday was full of surprises for this county in at least two ways.

The Republicans polled their full strength and probably voted several Democrats, who had become dissatisfied with the Democratic party. The stock law is thought to have played an important part, and the low price of cotton also had an important bearing on the number of votes cast. The Democrats did not turn out to the polls in nearly their full strength, and the result was that the party won by the smallest majority that has been received in several years.

Wallace only gave a small majority for the Democratic nominee; Rose Hill went Republican by a small majority, and Magnolia broke nearly even, but giving the Democrats the advantage; Warsaw gave a handsome majority, the Republicans only receiving 16 votes, which is smaller than the last election; Faison also gave a good per cent. of her vote and a gain was made at Calypso. The total majority will probably be only about 400, where there is usually 700.

The fight on the amendments was such that even at 4 o'clock today it is impossible to say whether they were accepted or rejected.

As late as Sunday it was generally thought that the amendments would receive a large majority for their adoption, and it was little dreamed of that the Republicans would make such a showing as they have done.

GUDGER STANDS PAT

But Britt's Election is Now Generally Conceded in Tenth.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 4.—Refusing to concede that Congressman J. M. Gudger, Jr., has met defeat at the hands of James J. Britt, J. Scoop Styles, campaign manager for the Democratic candidate, issued a statement today in which he declared that Congressman Gudger has been sent back to Congress by a majority of 19 votes. He did not give out the figures upon which the estimate is based, but stated that final returns will show that his statement is based on authentic information.

Mr. Britt, however, issued a statement thanking his friends for their support, and stating that official returns from the majority of the counties and unofficial reports from the others show that he has won by a majority of 1,015.

Asked for a statement as to the election, Congressman Gudger said he had none to make. He added that he is not conceding the election of Mr. Britt.

It is generally believed that Mr. Britt has been successful and that he has won by a majority that will run in the neighborhood of 500.

WAYNE DEMOCRATIC BY 500

Gen. E. Hood's Majority in the County About 600.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, Nov. 4.—Returns from yesterday's election in Wayne county brought some surprises but on the whole the entire county Democratic ticket was elected by over 500 majority. Respective majorities of the voting precincts except New Hope: Fork, Republican majority 38; Grantham, Republican majority 135; Providence, Democratic majority 8; Dudley, Democratic majority 52; Eureka, Democratic majority 71; Indian Springs, Republican majority 44; White Hall, Republican majority 2; Saulston, Democratic mapority 52; Eureka, Democratic majority 25; Fremont, Democratic majority 140; Great [illegible] Democratic majority 95; Buc[illegible] Republican majority 23; Pikeville, Republican majority 4; Stoney Creek, Republican majority 30; Goldsboro, Democratic majority 517, while Hand for Congress received 560 in the county.

LENOIR FOR AMENDMENTS

M. Leslie Davis Elected to Legislature. Beaufort Goes Democratic.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 4.—Lenoir county, by figures had today, voted 540 for the constitutional amendments to 189 against. The Democratic vote in the county was less than two-thirds of the normal; the Republican less than half.

It is certain this afternoon that M. Leslie Davis was elected to the Legislature from Carteret county over Simon Styron, Jr., by around 100 majority. Davis is the regular Democratic choice. Styron, the nominee of the fused Republicans, Progressives and dissatisfied Democrats. A local issue caused the split. The fight centered around Davis.

Beaufort town turned Democratic. Morehead City greatly reduced its Democratic majority. Atlantic township, which until this election, never had a Republican voter, went for the fusionist ticket by more than 100 majority. All other Democratic nominees were elected.

WILSON FOR AMENDMENTS

Majority Approximately 200—Democratic Wins by 585.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 4.—Later returns show that tax and school term amendments were heavily scratched in several rural districts. Conservative estimates give the majority in favor of the amendments at 200. Senator Overman ran ahead of the ticket in several townships. Democratic vote is estimated now at 864; Republican 279. The official count will be necessary to show material changes.

SIX TO ONE IN DUPLIN.

Ratio of Defeat of Amendments Estimated—Democratic Majority 350.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 4.—Reports received here up to tonight indicate that the estimate of the Duplin Democratic majority of 350 to 400 is correct. The returns regarding the amendments are still very meagre, but the Tax amendment is defeated probably six to one and the others are probably also, but by a smaller majority. The Republicans who were against them polled their full vote, but the Democrats who favored them only polled a very small portion of their strength.

VOTE LIGHT IN BLADEN

Democratic Tickets and Amendments Carried in Clarkton Section.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Nov. 4.—Reports from five townships indicate Democratic majorities of about 225 for the county and State tickets and about the same majorities for the constitutional amendments. Other townships are supposed to be very close. The vote was light.

SAMPSON RETURNS ALL IN.

Majority Against Amendments 2,000; Against Democracy 1,800.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Nov. 4.—Complete returns from all voting precincts in Sampson show that the Republican majority will be about 1,800.

The constitutional amendments were defeated by about 2,000. Many Democrats and Republicans failed to vote in this election and the total vote cast in the county is smaller than for some time.

GUDGER'S DEFEAT CERTAIN

Associated Press Estimates Britt's Majority at 500 Votes.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 4.—While the official count may make slight changes in the size of his majority, James J. Britt, the Republican-Progressive nominee for Congress in the Tenth district, has defeated his Democratic opponent, James M. Gudger, Jr., the present Congressman, by at least 500 votes. Mr. Gudger carried but four of the 13 counties in the district.

STEDMAN'S MAJORITY 4,300.

Amendments Defeated by 325 to 600 Majority—Democrats O. K.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 4.—Complete returns from the entire district show Congressman Stedman re-elected by a majority of 4,300. He carried every county except Stokes and Surry. In Guilford county the Seventh amendment was defeated by 600 votes and the other amendments by 325 votes. The majority of the State and county ticket is 1,075.

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS PLEAD "NOT GUILTY"

Eleven of the Twenty Indicted Appear in Court to Answer to Charge.

New York, Nov. 4.—Eleven of the twenty New Haven directors or former directors, indicted Monday by the Federal grand jury, today entered pleas of not guilty in the United States District Court. William Skinner, Alexander Cochrane, James S. Hemingway, Frederick R. Brewston, A. Seaton Robertson, D. Newton Barney, Edward Milligan, Francis T. Maxwell, Henry K. McHarg and Robert W. Taft appeared personally. An attorney appeared for Theodore N. Vail, ill in Virginia. Each of the defendants was released under a bond of 65,000, and given until Nov. 25 to make any motions that might be deemed necessary by counsel.

Edward D. Robbins, former New Haven counsel, who also was indicted, reserved the right to enter at a later date a "plea to bar" in which he might claim immunity.

BODY FOUND IN DITCH

Aged Colored Woman of Duplin Had Been Missing Several Weeks.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 4.—It was learned today that the body of the aged colored woman, Caroline Best, had been found near here in a badly decomposed state.

The woman came to this town from her home on October 17, presumably to do her week's shopping, and disappeared on that date, and up to the time the body was found, no trace of her could be found although her relatives and friends advertised and searched diligently for her. The body when it was found was lying in a ditch face up, and was supposed to have been by water which had fallen during the rain about that time. The water hd receded, leaving the body exposed to the birds of prey, and the face and body had been badly disfigured when found. No trace of foul play was found, and it is thought that she wandered off, and as it is believed that she was rather feeeble minded, this is the accepted theory.

NO APPREHENSION FELT.

Vancouver is Unafraid of German Bombardment of City—Naval Protection.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 4.—No apprehension is felt here of a raid on Victoria and Vancouver by German warships which defeated the British squadron in the South Pacific Sunday.

Besides the Japanese cruiser Idsumo, the British cruisers New Castle and Swiftsure, and the Canadian cruiser Rainbow are attached to the Esquimault station. There are at least two Japanese warships off Honolulu and the great Japanese battle cruiser Kongo is reported between San Francisco and Honolulu.

The strait of Juan De Fuca has been mined, it is announced.

CANADIAN CITIES UNEASY.

Ottawa, Can., Nov. 4.—The presence of five German warships in the Pacific off the coast of Chile and the probability that two more, the Dresden and the Emden, are on their way to join them, created considerable apprehension here for the safety of Canadian cities on the Pacific coast. To meet the situation the naval authorities at Ottawa were in conference all forenoon.

It is feared that the German fleet may steam north and under long distance bombardment attempt to levy tribute on the city of Victoria.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heart felt thanks to our many friends and especially to the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Immanuel Presbyterian church, for their kind assistance and tender sympathy during the recent sickness and subsequent death of our little daughter, Nellie May Barnett. We shall always remember their kindness with deep appreciation.

MR. and MRS. D. H. BARNETT.

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK SECURITY 4% SERVICE WILMINGTON N. C.

PLAIN TALK No. 3

If a business man went to his home after his day's work in his office and found the chairs in his library dusty; pictures hanging crooked on the wall; the room cold; a general sense of untidiness, uncleanliness and general disorder, he would register a kick and howl that would be heard all over the house. And yet — this same man spends his hours of business in an office where intelligent and regular janitor service is unknown, in fact where there are no facilities for such service. He sits through the dirt and dust. His clients and friends call; they do not see; they have become accustomed and hardened to the old order of things. And there lies the point. Few NEW faces do come. There is no attraction. Look this square in the face. Is this the case in your business? Think it over. There is a building in Wilmington which remedies all of these and many other troubles for $12.00 a month and up. Brighten up. Stir around a bit. Get yourself in the Murchison National Bank Building, and be proud of your office quarters. Visit the tenants already in this handsome building; talk to them. They have a message for you.
